This document discusses the concerning actions of Shooshimooshi, or Omar , a 27 year old content creator who mainly focuses on true crime cases including extremely serious topics such as SA, murder, mistreatment of children, abuse, and so much more.

Shooshimooshi has exhibited- racist, homophobic, predatory, ableist, and fatphobic behaviors, along with little to no sympathy for the victims in his cases that he covers, which he is actively profiting off of.

He has also shown that when critiqued, his first response is to always skirt around the responsibility and constantly put the blame on others, shielding himself within his largely teenage girl fanbase, going as far as to get them to mass report posts that criticize him. He will also lie and conceal information in order to make himself look like the bigger person- when in reality- he isn't.

When someone builds their brand around calling out predators, creeps, and disgusting behavior, they are telling their audience, “Trust me. I know what wrong looks like and I’m fighting against it.”

This is a documented pattern of messages and behavior that, when taken together, raises serious concerns about how ShooshiMooshi treated minors, how he used his platform, and how far the gap is between his public image and private conduct.

When people build their audience by pointing fingers at everyone else, they should expect the same scrutiny when the evidence points back at them. That is accountability.

And accountability does not mean pretending every allegation is proven beyond dispute. It means showing the receipts, laying out the timeline, and letting viewers see the pattern for themselves.

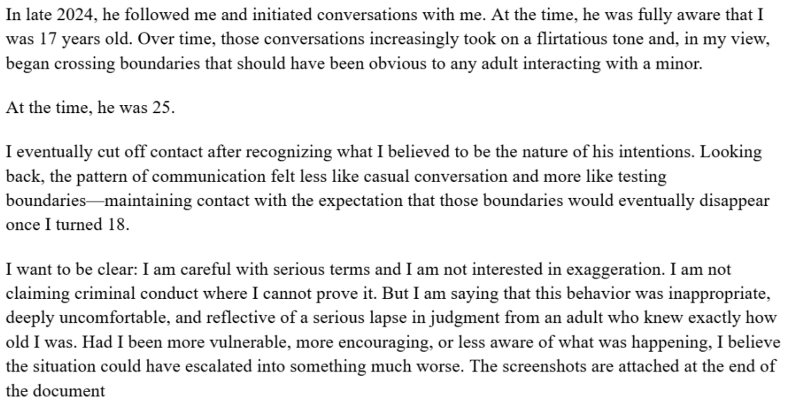
Pattern of predatory behavior

For more proof: shooshimooshi 2
Warning for NSFW mention, and predatory behavior.

One of the most concerning aspects of ShooshiMooshi's behavior is the repeated pattern of interactions with significantly younger girls despite being a grown adult. When confronted, he constantly downplays his actions, even going as far as to publicly humiliate one minor who he claimed was “seducing him.” According to multiple accounts compiled in this document, (seven girls, ages 16-19) he knowingly initiated and maintained private conversations with minors and younger women, including at least one individual who states he was fully aware she was 17 years old at the time while he was 25.



In late 2024, he followed me and initiated conversations with me. At the time, he was fully aware that I was 17 years old. Over time, those conversations increasingly took on a flirtatious tone and, in my view, began crossing boundaries that should have been obvious to any adult interacting with a minor.

At the time, he was 25.

I eventually cut off contact after recognizing what I believed to be the nature of his intentions. Looking back, the pattern of communication felt less like casual conversation and more like testing boundaries—maintaining contact with the expectation that those boundaries would eventually disappear once I turned 18.

I want to be clear: I am careful with serious terms and I am not interested in exaggeration. I am not claiming criminal conduct where I cannot prove it. But I am saying that this behavior was inappropriate, deeply uncomfortable, and reflective of a serious lapse in judgment from an adult who knew exactly how old I was. Had I been more vulnerable, more encouraging, or less aware of what was happening, I believe the situation could have escalated into something much worse. The screenshots are attached at the end of the document

Rather than establishing clear boundaries, these conversations became increasingly personal and flirtatious over time, creating an uncomfortable dynamic that should never have existed between an adult creator and a minor in the first place.

Shooshimooshi has a large fanbase of female teenagers. When he exhibits this sort of predatory behavior, it raises concerns for his young fandom who he has easy access to.

Age gap relationships are tricky. Not always bad or good. The reason age gap relationships can be problematic is because it OPENS the possibility of the older person taking advantage of a power imbalance to manipulate the younger person. If both parties are of legal age and have communicated clear boundaries to eachother and are respectful, I personally don't see issue unless you get to like 30s and 40s still going for 18-19 year olds. I typically go for older girls but if the girl is really cool but happens to be younger than me, I wouldn't write them off immediately just cuz of age 🙅‍♂️. Just gotta be respectful and not weird to her. After this tho, I'm staying away from anything under 20 💀

In the tweet, he acknowledges that age-gap relationships can be problematic because of power imbalances and the possibility of an older person taking advantage of a younger person. However, he fails to apply this same standard to himself . For example, he acknowledges that power imbalances matter. As a creator with a large audience, he possessed not only an age advantage in some of these interactions but also a platform advantage. His platform may lead to young girls immediately assuming he is to be trusted or his larger platform may silence a creator with a smaller platform. He is also noted to mainly go after smaller content creators, (notably asian cosplayers). His statement that he mainly goes for older women is also a lie. Multiple individuals (16-19) describe similar experiences: being contacted by him, developing ongoing private conversations, and eventually becoming uncomfortable with the nature of those interactions

I reviewed his online activity and reached out privately to several women who appeared to have interacted with him. Multiple people confirmed that they had been in contact with him since 2023. A pattern emerged: many were younger women, often smaller content creators, all of whom I've talked to are asian, and all remembering him because of his online status and platform size.

Here he also may be indirectly suggesting meeting up with her to watch hentai. A 25 year old and a 17 year old should not be discussing these things at all.

What makes these allegations particularly troubling is that they do not appear to be isolated incidents. Several accounts claim that he pursued younger women, often smaller creators with less influence than himself. A recurring theme is that many of these women remembered him specifically because of his platform size and status as a content creator. This creates a significant power imbalance, as younger creators may feel pressured to maintain contact with someone who possesses a much larger audience and public platform.

What's particularly alarming is the fact that he invited underage or significantly younger girls to travel and meet him in person despite being fully aware of their ages. This behavior was highly inappropriate and indicative of poor judgment.

Multiple individuals have said that he attempted to arrange meetings with them or encouraged them to visit his state. He is trying to minimize the extent of his own behavior. This downplays a pattern that several women have described as persistent. This persistent behavior comes across as pressuring women, making them feel uncomfortable and obligated.

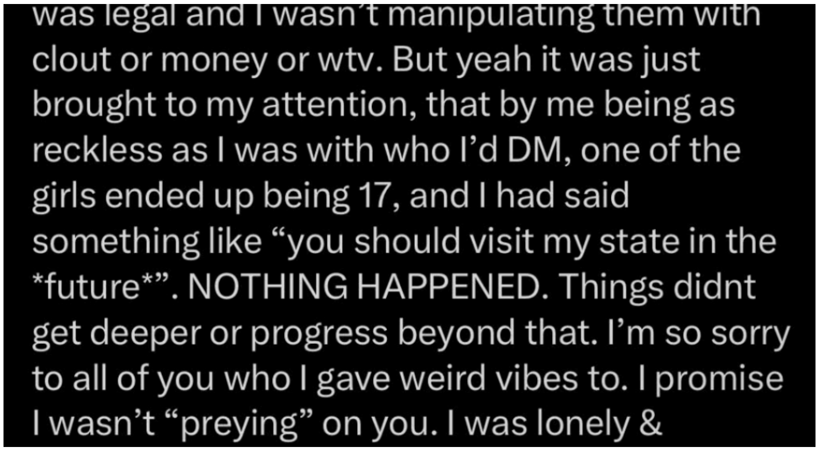
This is an 18 year old he had tried to meet up with.



was legal and I wasn't manipulating them with clout or money or wtv. But yeah it was just brought to my attention, that by me being as reckless as I was with who I'd DM, one of the girls ended up being 17, and I had said something like "you should visit my state in the future". NOTHING HAPPENED. Things didnt get deeper or progress beyond that. I'm so sorry to all of you who I gave weird vibes to. I promise I wasn't "preying" on you. I was lonely &

This apology minimizes the actual concern by focusing on the fact that "nothing happened" rather than addressing the behavior itself. The issue was never just whether a relationship formed, but that he knowingly interacted with a 17-year-old, discussed meeting in the future, and continued a dynamic that many viewed as inappropriate. The apology also frames the situation as a one-time mistake involving a single girl who "ended up being 17," despite multiple people alleging similar experiences.

He also says that while he didn't have any romantic attraction towards the 17 yo, he felt as she did. If an adult genuinely believes a minor is acting inappropriately toward them, the responsible response is to establish boundaries and end contact. According to these accounts, that is not what happened. Instead, communication allegedly continued for months, and he reportedly reinitiated contact after she felt weirded out and stopped responding to him.

His response when confronted is also extremely weird. Rather than addressing concerns about boundaries and responsibility, he attempted to redirect attention toward the behavior of the younger individuals involved. After criticism became public, he responded by releasing private conversations and images involving a girl who was underage at the time those materials were exchanged, in order to guilt her into deleting the post. This demonstrates a willingness to use personal information as a tool of retaliation. In these posts he even reveals a photo she sent of her backside, claiming she was trying to seduce her. He has admitted to rapidfiring multiple dms to asian cosplayer girls under the guise that he was lonely and only wanted a relationship. If they discover that one of those creators is significantly younger than them, the appropriate response would be to step back from the interaction rather than continue cultivating a friendship after the original intent was romantic.

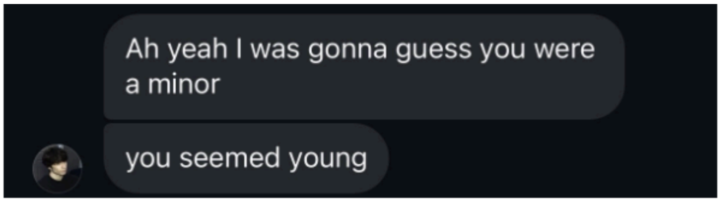
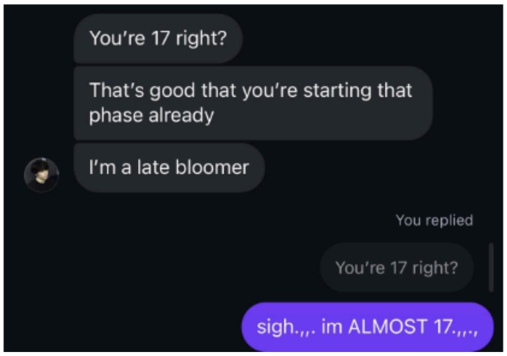
Here is more proof and more of the testimony from the victim:

Scroll for more



Ah yeah I was gonna guess you were a minor

you seemed young



You're 17 right?

That's good that you're starting that phase already

I'm a late bloomer

You're 17 right?

sigh.,,. im ALMOST 17.,,.,

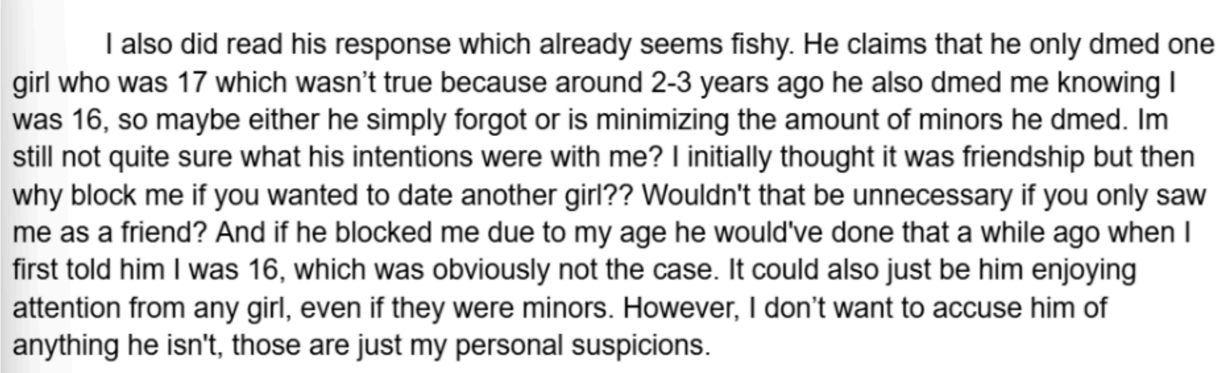
Not only that but when I learned that he had a pattern of dming girls who were minors I got concerned. But as a 24-25 year old man, maybe you shouldn't make close friends with teenage cosplay girls. Not to mention the fact that he did publically flirt with girls who were 18-19, it just makes the whole situation with him befriending young girls seem even more suspicious.

This is disappointing to me because I used to trust him a lot when we were friends. He vented to me a lot about his ex situationship bc i just so happened to be mutuals with her and even though i offered to listen he kind of went TOO into detail sometimes about what happened?

I did trust him a lot and listened + tried to help with his problems and give advice. I also told him about a lot of my own problems in return too and he also encouraged it and I was super appreciative. I ended up caring about him at the time as a friend because I thought he was relatable. I don't really remember why he unfollowed me on tiktok but he did vaguely mention it was because he was talking to a girl that he wanted to be serious about?? I was a bit confused because I saw our friendship as JUST a friendship but i didnt push the issue. Then sometime later, im not sure when, he blocked me on tt and unfollowed me on insta. It wasnt until a while after we stopped talking randomly when I learned from another one of my mutuals that she also felt weird about him. He would also encourage vc, talking to him, telling him about our personal stuff, and overall just a relationship that, in my opinion, was odd to have with a 24-25 year old guy and a 16-17 year old teen on the internet.

Above are screenshots, showing the 16 year olds experience being friends with a 25 year old shooshi.

Scroll for more



I also did read his response which already seems fishy. He claims that he only dmed one girl who was 17 which wasn't true because around 2-3 years ago he also dmed me knowing I was 16, so maybe either he simply forgot or is minimizing the amount of minors he dmed. Im still not quite sure what his intentions were with me? I initially thought it was friendship but then why block me if you wanted to date another girl?? Wouldn't that be unnecessary if you only saw me as a friend? And if he blocked me due to my age he would've done that a while ago when I first told him I was 16, which was obviously not the case. It could also just be him enjoying attention from any girl, even if they were minors. However, I don't want to accuse him of anything he isn't, those are just my personal suspicions.

Shooshimooshi is constantly trying to downplay how many minors he DM'd. For all we know, there may be several more victims out there.

There is no reason to justify being 'friendly' with so many minors (especially those that fit the demographic you find attractive), asking a 17-year-old to meet up with you multiple times, and continuing inappropriate or suggestive conversations without calling it out or ending them. He also constantly downplays his own behavior, proving that his actions do in fact make him look guilty.

The broader pattern described throughout these accounts paints a concerning picture. Rather than a single misunderstanding or isolated mistake, there are repeated interactions with younger women, recurring complaints about inappropriate boundaries, attempts to arrange meetings, and a tendency to respond defensively when confronted. Even if none of these allegations independently establish criminal wrongdoing, many readers may conclude that they reveal a pattern of behavior that is inappropriate, irresponsible, and incompatible with the public image of someone who regularly positions himself as a moral authority on the conduct of others.

[redacted] I haven't denied a no. I left it to you. "If the door is closed, tell me. If there's still a way you're waiting for me to prove myself, don't reply." All of what I said about Instagram was a suggestion for IF you allow me the opportunity to do you right in a new relationship from scratch. Im sorry I keep texting but I really am just trying to leave on good footing. I wish you a good day at school, on your tests, everything. I just get cursed at and mocked with messages like the one attached. It does seem like you want someone else and are done with me as a result. What triggered the breakup talk? My immaturity with girl pages. It's been fixed for a while. leaving you alone? I did that but then you came in and broke nc to attack me with names. A situation you triggered that SHOULD'VE sparked self reflection/growth on your end, instead had you go "welp, im done". Hell I even gave us an out to forgive and forget that day

In the messages, Shooshimooshi expresses continued romantic feelings, and discusses attempts to reconnect through gifts/letters, and argues against the circumstances of the breakup. Note his wording here, "A situation you triggered that should've sparked self-reflaction/growth on your end, instead had you go 'welp, im done.'"

Here, he puts the blame of the entire situation on her. He also essentially says that "you should've learned a lesson but you didn't," which is condescending, like a teacher scolding a student. This implies a moral superiority. Keep in mind, at this time, Shooshi is 24 years old and the victim is 17 years old. They already have an unbalanced unhealthy power dynamic, Shooshi's attitude plays into the dynamic, leaving the victim feeling helpless. His tone is also dismissive, even mocking her decision, "instead you had to go 'welp, I'm done.'" This minimizes the victim's feelings about the breakup by framing their decision as immature.

Also, the way he says "I just get cursed and mocked at" frames himself as the victim and makes the 17 year old victim feel responsible for Shooshi's emotional distress. He also says "I did everything. I've tried. But I'm still horrible in your eyes." This suggests that Shooshi is claiming that the victim is unfair and unreasonable for maintaining their position in the breakup. Of course, in a healthy relationship, both parties should be able to end the relationship without blame.

Note that the victim also said this is a text-now number. A text-now number is basically a second number given, similar to a burner number. This shows proof of Shooshi continuously reaching out to the victim despite being blocked, showing his harassment.

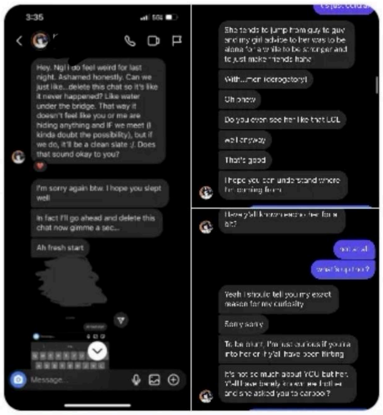
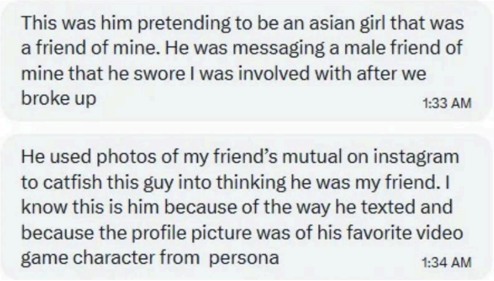
Below are screenshots of Shooshi allegedly reaching out to the victims friend with an alternate account, pretending to be an asian female friend of the victim.





This was him pretending to be an asian girl that was a friend of mine. He was messaging a male friend of mine that he swore I was involved with after we broke up 1:33 AM

He used photos of my friend's mutual on instagram to catfish this guy into thinking he was my friend. I know this is him because of the way he texted and because the profile picture was of his favorite video game character from persona 1:34 AM oh nahh it's nothing like that we don't flirt or talk LOL it was just streaks at one point

it's just cordial

She tends to jump from guy to guy and my girl advice to her was to be alone for a while to be stronger and to just make friends haha

With...men (derogatory)

Oh phew

Do you even see her like that LOL

well anyway

That's good

I hope you can understand where I'm coming from yeah i do you're a good friend for looking out

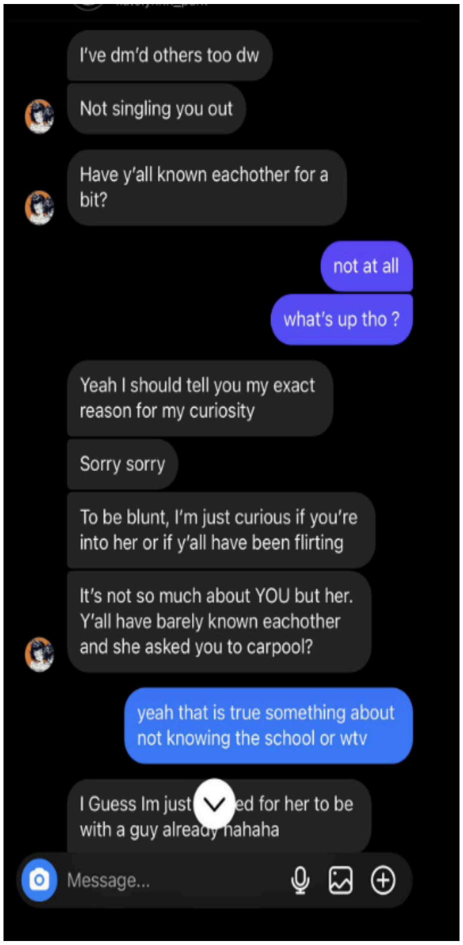
Yeah if we meet, just please keep

Message...



I've dm'd others too dw

Not singling you out

Have y'all known eachother for a bit?

not at all

what's up tho ?

Yeah I should tell you my exact reason for my curiosity

Sorry sorry

To be blunt, I'm just curious if you're into her or if y'all have been flirting

It's not so much about YOU but her. Y'all have barely known eachother and she asked you to carpool?

yeah that is true something about not knowing the school or wtv

I Guess Im just ed for her to be with a guy already hahaha

Hey. Ngl i do feel weird for last night. Ashamed honestly. Can we just like...delete this chat so it's like it never happened? Like water under the bridge. That way it doesn't feel like you or me are hiding anything and IF we meet (I kinda doubt the possibility), but if we do, it'll be a clean slate :/. Does that sound okay to you?

I'm sorry again btw. I hope you slept well

In fact I'll go ahead and delete this chat now gimme a sec...

Ah fresh start

[redacted]

Message...

In these screenshots, Shooshi is asking the victim's friend about their relationships with other people and the victim's friend, attempting to obtain information about the victim's friend. For example he says, "Do you even see her like that.." and "I'm just curious if you're into her or if y'all have been flirting…" to the victim's friend. He frames his questions as coming from a place out of concern for the victim, but it is clear that is focused on her romantic relationships.

Here he seems to be trying to figure out the relationship between the victim and their friend. This is significantly more serious than simple jealousy because it involves deception and impersonation. In fact, this borders on obsession as he was highly concerned with the victim's life even after the breakup. These messages show him monitoring the victim's life after the break up as well.

Below shows evidence of Shooshimooshi allegedly creating multiple to reach out to the victim after being blocked.

I read the entire book of "Pride & Prejudice" like you asked. I won't ask you to do that or even watch a movie as easy as that is. Just please watch the linked clip below from "The Notebook". Look into the ending if ya want. You're my first love so how could I let go so easily. 5 months isn't that long to get over the past, or to properly reflect on how you and I messed up at times. BUT, talking to someone isn't wrong. If you ever unblock me on ig or reach out again, I'll be more mature and just talk like friends, joking around and what not. Will I ask if you've like...slept around or with someone? Maybe but we're not together so why should I get upset? Especially if it's just dating. it's your right to.

I think I know who it is that you're "talking to". Before you re-blocked me again after unblocking for that email you read late (I sometimes wonder if you meant to leave me unblocked and that was just ur excuse lol), I saw you follow this one dude and his spam. So yeah it hurt especially cuz he seems close-ish to my age. Maybe it's not him but look, in the future, after I've properly shut the fuck up. Maybe I can carpool you a couple times [redacted] and just talk normal. Maybe by then I'll also have my own place haha. I told my mom, dad, and friends about your age btw. They obviously saw the age gap as problematic, not that much socially, but like from a relationship/mental perspective. At least know that we wouldn't be living with a lie anymore. We're clean

YouTube video regarding 15 year old

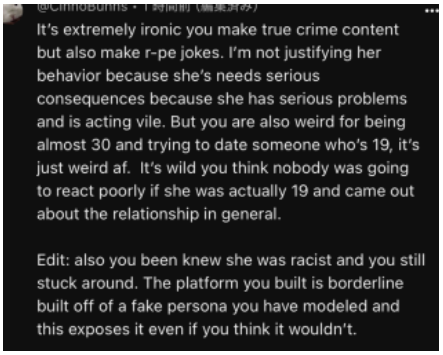
Shooshimooshi's "exposing" video

🎬 Exposing a Girl That is Trying To Ruin My Life...Others May Be in Danger.mp4

This video is a (now deleted) lengthy attack video published on youtube, disguised as an "exposing" video. Throughout the video, Shooshimooshi attempts to portray a 15-year-old girl (Japanichegirl) as a manipulative liar in an attempt to defend himself against allegations made against him. He heavily relies on anonymous sources, speculation about her motives, and repeated personal insults. Despite his claims that he has not encouraged harassment, he repeatedly directs attention toward the minor and encourages viewers to distrust and oppose anything she says. The video focuses more on attacking her character than it does on presenting evidence.

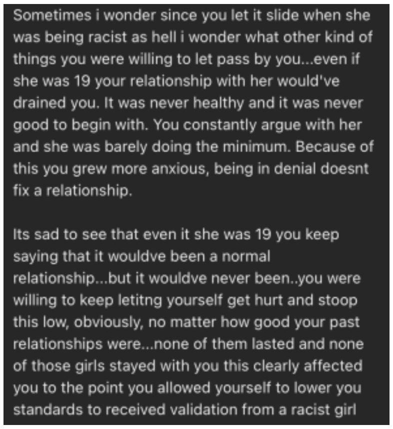
Note that Shooshimooshi does not acknowledge anything about his allegations with the 17 and 16 year old girls in this video. He only covers things that are extremely easy to "debunk," such as the case where the 15 year old girl lied to him. This was because he was able to easily discredit the 15 year old and make her look unreliable.

It is also notable that Shooshimooshi was aware and ignored the girl's alleged racist behavior and other misconduct until she became a liability to him personally. In simple terms: he was okay with dating a racist. Rather than speaking out when he first became aware of these issues, he only chose to publicly condemn them after their falling out. This undermines his attempts to portray himself as acting out of principle and instead suggests that his concern began when his own reputation was at risk.



It's extremely ironic you make true crime content but also make r-pe jokes. I'm not justifying her behavior because she's needs serious consequences because she has serious problems and is acting vile. But you are also weird for being almost 30 and trying to date someone who's 19, it's just weird af. It's wild you think nobody was going to react poorly if she was actually 19 and came out about the relationship in general.

Edit: also you been knew she was racist and you still stuck around. The platform you built is borderline built off of a fake persona you have modeled and this exposes it even if you think it wouldn't.



Sometimes i wonder since you let it slide when she was being racist as hell i wonder what other kind of things you were willing to let pass by you...even if she was 19 your relationship with her would've drained you. It was never healthy and it was never good to begin with. You constantly argue with her and she was barely doing the minimum. Because of this you grew more anxious, being in denial doesnt fix a relationship.

Its sad to see that even it she was 19 you keep saying that it wouldve been a normal relationship...but it wouldve never been..you were willing to keep letitng yourself get hurt and stoop this low, obviously, no matter how good your past relationships were...none of them lasted and none of those girls stayed with you this clearly affected you to the point you allowed yourself to lower you standards to received validation from a racist girl what I'm getting from this whole video is that you would have continued to date her if she was actually 19 or didn't threaten to "defame" you because the way you're defensive about 19 & 27 being legal is 🤢 anyone who isnt a creep & has self respect still wouldn't do it. you're just as bad as her because you knew she was dwelling on 4chan, racist & you even made rape jokes together despite you pushing 30... shouldn't you have condemned it instead of enabling her? you also kept talking to her & sending the vms despite being in doubt of her real age & now you're talking about being "trapped" 💀 you stayed cause you were lustful & that's the reason that compelled you to date a 19 year old as a 27 year old in the first place.

you're just trying to do damage control here & it shows by how you delete & can't handle any comments that criticises you & only interacting with those that are glazing you

As you can see here, comments under his video are pointing that out.

7:23 PM · May 1, 2026 · 68 Views

Here is where he admits to being okay with her racism because he was “a simp.” Dating someone is not just accepting their behavior toward you. It's also choosing to support and associate closely with their values. Even if he claims not to engage in racism himself, staying with a racist partner can signal that her prejudice is not a dealbreaker, which indirectly normalizes or enables it.

He also repeatedly attacks her character instead of addressing the evidence she has against him because he knows it makes him look bad. These are emotional appeals that encourage viewers to dislike the person rather than focus on whether specific claims are true. He intentionally paints her as a monster, labeling her as uncredible.

Throughout the video he repeatedly states things like:

"She's a monster"

"She's a sociopath"

"She's psychotic"

"She needs to be on an FBI watch list"

"She should be checked into a psych ward"

(direct quotes from the video)

These are serious character judgments, but he isn't a mental health professional and doesn't present independent verification. Even if someone behaved badly, jumping to diagnoses is not evidence. In fact, using these as an attack on her character reinforces stigmas for mental health. This is hypocritical because in his public persona, he acts educated and even sympathetic at times towards those in mental distress. However, he simultaneously reinforces stigmas and uses it as an attack.

Scroll for more

@wacha@wachamochapettanmarch all the comments are little kids who are saying "oh this girl is so bad!! i am 15/14 etc. and i only know how to play with dolls!!" obviously inflating their own ego, because thats what kids do, they want to seem good and better (i was 15 once and behaved similarly, i feel like we all did). so its a shame this creep is using his young fanbase as a shield to protect himself from his own mistakes.. and yup i agree with the second part too. u see a lot of adult men in the comment section defending him, being like "BROO i hope nothing happens to you stay safe" 😭😭 like its actually insane. i grew up with an insanely abusive and manipulative family member, so recognizing the pattern is just super easy.

YES!! to also throw the label "sociopath" at her when that isn't even possible. it's even deeply frowned upon in clinical settings to throw this term at a minor. why? because it is insanely damaging and you can't even tell if they have aspd at mfering 15 years old. like you said, you first need to take everything into account; their environment, the people who interact with her. what she is doing is NOT okay but this is also not how you handle conflict with an obviously mentally unwell minor. you dont make a video about it, you take it to the authorities OR involve the parents. this is coming from someone who has seen this exact behavior from victims of violent crime, a lot of them lash out like this. does that excuse their behavior? ofc not. but as a 27 year old one should know that this is not how you handle this sort of stuff.

It is also notable that in the video, he asks “what were you guys doing when you were her age?” Everyone's experiences are different, and there's always a reason for children to act the way they do. Obviously no one goes through the same things, and humiliating a child is extremely disgusting.

E-dating a 19 year old.

A 27-year-old e-dating a 19-year-old may be legal, but legality is not the same as appropriateness. A 19-year-old is only beginning adulthood, often still dependent on parents, new to college, work, finances, and adult relationships. A 27-year-old has nearly a decade more life experience, independence, and emotional development. That difference creates a power imbalance that can make it easier for the older person to influence, manipulate, or control the younger one. Saying "she's a college sophomore" does not erase the fact that her stage of life is much closer to adolescence than to someone approaching 30. The question is not whether the relationship is legal, but whether two people at such different stages of maturity and life experience can truly meet on equal footing.

@shooshiMooshimaybe not sending money or giving "clout", more like joking ab raping your teenage girlfriend lol y r u arguing w teenagers about morals anyway all im saying is that if we're bringing up laws, they don't mean everything. if laws were the most important thing in this case then you could say that other countries who support dating little girls are valid just bc its "legal". it would be different if she was 20-21 but the logic is that " teen" is still referring to a teenager, laws or not. maybe it didn't matter to a lot of our generations parents bc that wasn't a big deal then and ppl didnt care at the time, but people do care now that dating teens is just weird at your age in general. as someone whos actually 19 and has known most guys your age like teen girls in a fetishy predatory way, you cant blame anyone for being a little caught off guard i mean ppl like me r pointing it out for a reason lol 😳

He publicly exposes a minor to a huge audience and harassment

He repeatedly emphasizes that Japanichegirl is 15. Despite this, Shooshi continues to expose her social media, subjecting her to harassment, and he spends 30 minutes attacking her character, as discussed earlier.

At first he says:

"Don't harass her."

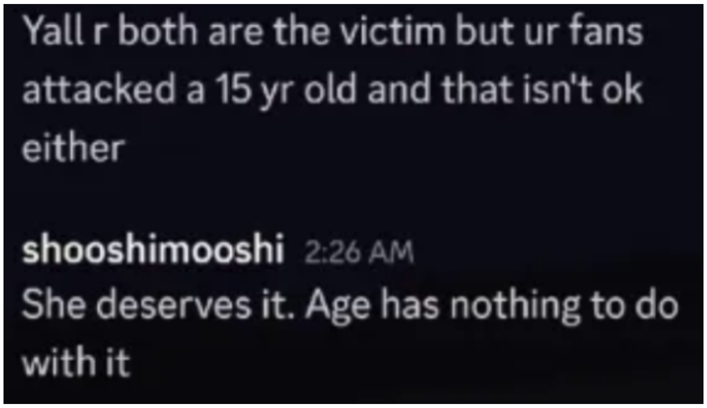
But later he contradicts himself by saying:

"We're all going to leave comments." 30:33–30:42

and

"She deserves consequences."26:48–27:02

Furthermore, Shooshi repeatedly encourages viewers to see her as dangerous throughout the duration of the whole video. Even if he never explicitly tells viewers to harass her, it is common sense that a large audience would go to her socials and harass her. He knew exactly that.



Yall r both are the victim but ur fans attacked a 15 yr old and that isn't ok either

shooshimooshi 2:26 AM
She deserves it. Age has nothing to do with it

This is a screenshot that was acknowledged by him and confirmed to be true. Here he says that his fans attacking a 15 year old is okay and deserved. Keep in mind that, instead of constructive criticism, his fans only attack Japanichegirl's appearance and send her threats. The screenshots below are examples of some of the harassment Japinichegirl has received.

Im sorry but this is such a self expose, the r word joke and 26:10 saying she deserves those attacks and "age has nothing to do with it"
I feel like youre a very self aware 27 year old man who knows you have the handsome eboy looks down to a tea, that you know you can pretty much get what you want out of your fanbase because of that. I know you are aware that your fanbase are made up of mostly young girls, alot of them are pretending to be incompetent in the top replies so they can appeal to you, I would know cos I used to be like this with my fav youtubers.

and Ive seen every one of these fans commenting on that persons page about how she "looks like a man" "shes so ugly that she should die", not a single one using the "criticisms" or points you brought up which is how I know your fans are just trying to "defend you" no matter what the reason wouldve been because every one of those young fans of your wants to be with you so bad AND YOU KNOW IT.

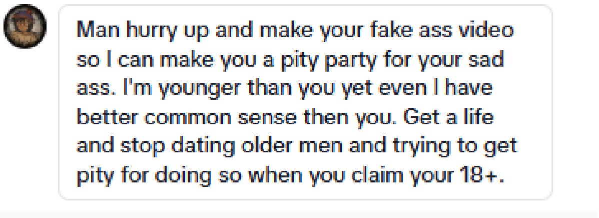
OFC what the 15 year old did is really bad and she is absolutely guilty for sure, but you are also just as equally guilty for getting yourself in a toxic relationship with someone who was "supposedly" 19 and acting as if you dont your responsibilities as someone reaching 30



Man hurry up and make your fake ass video so I can make you a pity party for your sad ass. I'm younger than you yet even I have better common sense then you. Get a life and stop dating older men and trying to get pity for doing so when you claim your 18+.

Scroll for more

As you can see, some of the accounts sending her things like these are young kids who can't see the issue with Shooshimooshi's video. This shows how easily Shooshimooshi can manipulate his young audience.

"Not doxxing because the account is public"

He argues that Japanichegirl's account is public with a decent following of 7,000 so he's not doxing her. But public identification and directing a large audience toward a minor are different issues. Many people would still consider that "sending an audience after someone" even if the profile was already public. What other reason does he have to show her tiktok profile which only consists of unrelated skits and videos? His true intentions here start to become suspicious. It's not only that he knew she would be subjected to harassment, but he wanted her to be harassed.

Victim blaming

ShooshiMooshi also publicly characterized the Japanichegirls experience as part of a broader "pattern of behavior," suggesting that she repeatedly placed herself in situations involving older individuals. The evidence he presented, however, focused on his interpretation of her past interactions rather than proof that she was responsible for being groomed. He made it seem as though she continuously goes after older men while there is no actual proof of that. Regardless of intent, the effect of these statements was to place scrutiny on the victim's choices and credibility rather than on the conduct that allegedly harmed her. Below are screenshots of comments, pointing out his hypocrisy. It is important to also note that these comments were deleted.

to those saying "when i was 15 i wasn't doing any of this! i was so normal and doing normal children things" no shit shirlock. you had a normal childhood, you weren't being groomed by older men around you and other dangerous individuals like it. people should understand at this point how a child displaying concerning behavior is never for NO REASON. there is always outside factors, unstable environment, ect. like children having unmonitored internet access such as this, and getting lost in dangerous relationships with people who influence this dangerous behavior. nobody stops to think WHY a child is displaying concerning and disturbed behavior such as this. a child wouldn't be doing this for no reason shooshi should NOT be handling true crime being this emotionally dense and victim blaming a minor who is in danger. shooshi is putting this MINOR in danger by doing this. she is clearly mentally unwell and being abused and influenced by the adults that have groomed her. the girl here is also in the wrong, but to call her a MONSTER is monsterous in and of itself. she IS a victim. she was being groomed by older men. there's no such thing as a 15 yo girl "going after" older men. only pedos claim the child was "going after" them. make it make sense. PLEASE see the bigger picture.

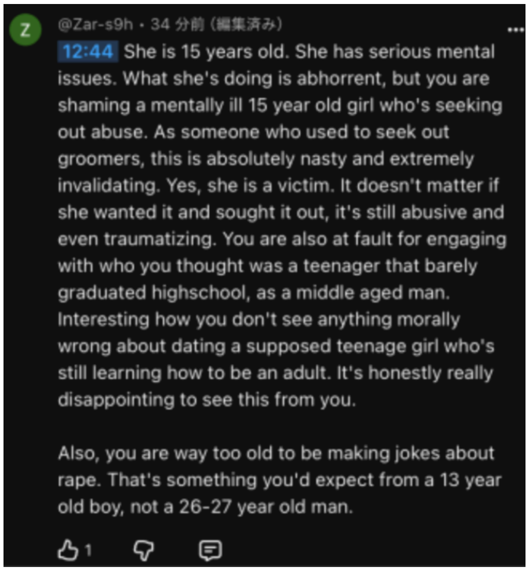
to state "imagine what shes going to do when shes older" is honestly insane. you're simultaneously acknowledging how she's still young, a child. SHE IS STILL GROWING. but you are ultimately preventing



@Zar-s9h・34 分前（編集済み）

12:44 She is 15 years old. She has serious mental issues. What she's doing is abhorrent, but you are shaming a mentally ill 15 year old girl who's seeking out abuse. As someone who used to seek out groomers, this is absolutely nasty and extremely invalidating. Yes, she is a victim. It doesn't matter if she wanted it and sought it out, it's still abusive and even traumatizing. You are also at fault for engaging with who you thought was a teenager that barely graduated highschool, as a middle aged man. Interesting how you don't see anything morally wrong about dating a supposed teenage girl who's still learning how to be an adult. It's honestly really disappointing to see this from you.

Also, you are way too old to be making jokes about rape. That's something you'd expect from a 13 year old boy, not a 26-27 year old man.

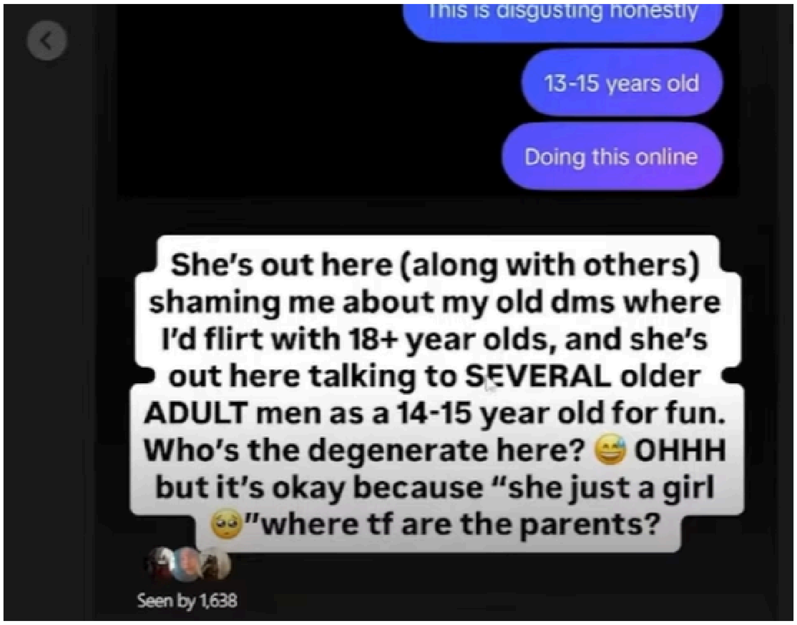
False evidence/lying



This is disgusting honestly

Doing this online

She's out here (along with others) shaming me about my old dms where I'd flirt with 18+ year olds, and she's out here talking to SEVERAL older ADULT men as a 14-15 year old for fun. Who's the degenerate here? 😅 OHHH but it's okay because "she just a girl 🥺"where tf are the parents?

Here he claims this doc (shooshimooshi 2) only mentions how he talked to 18+ year olds, and fails to mention the 17 and 16 year old girl.

Shooshimooshi also says here that Japanichegirl had posted saying he said this to her while knowing she was 15. No such post exists or is shown.

Shooshimooshi dismisses potential criticism before it happens

Shooshi says that:

"If she makes a video, she's fake crying."

"If she cries, it's manipulation."

"If she releases evidence, it's lies."

This creates a situation where anything she says later can be dismissed in advance. This is called poisoning the well , discrediting future arguments before they're made. In simpler terms, he is manipulating the viewer into perceiving Japanichegirl as unreliable.

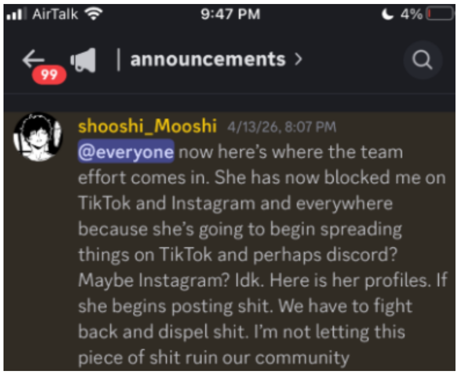
He also assumes motives often, presenting his assumptions as the truth. Those may be his beliefs, but motives are difficult to prove. This causes the viewer to take his assumptions as the truth, further manipulating the viewer into perceiving Japanichegirl as unreliable.



shooshi_Mooshi 4/13/26, 8:07 PM
@everyone now here's where the team effort comes in. She has now blocked me on TikTok and Instagram and everywhere because she's going to begin spreading things on TikTok and perhaps discord? Maybe Instagram? Idk. Here is her profiles. If she begins posting shit. We have to fight back and dispel shit. I'm not letting this piece of shit ruin our community

In the screenshot above, you can see that he is assuming her actions and leaking her profiles. As discussed earlier, he is discrediting her and subjecting her to more harassment. That whole discord announcement is honestly just loser behavior.

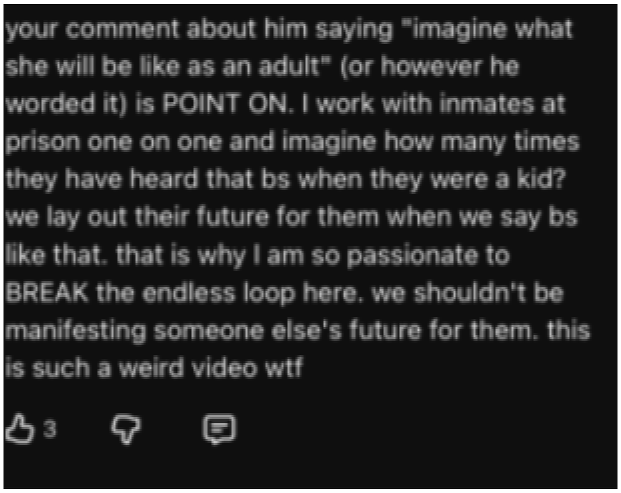
Furthermore, in his videos, he repeatedly speculates beyond the given evidence.

Examples:

Scroll for more

- predicting what she'll do as an adult
- saying she always gets away with things
- suggesting future dangerous behavior
- claiming she has no remorse

Those are conclusions that go beyond what can usually be proven from screenshots alone. This is a personal attack on her character. To the average young viewer, these beliefs come across as the truth.



your comment about him saying "imagine what she will be like as an adult" (or however he worded it) is POINT ON. I work with inmates at prison one on one and imagine how many times they have heard that bs when they were a kid? we lay out their future for them when we say bs like that. that is why I am so passionate to BREAK the endless loop here. we shouldn't be manifesting someone else's future for them. this is such a weird video wtf

He claims he doesn’t hate her and he has moved on, but through the way he intentionally attacks her character, his true feelings about her are questionable.

He compares edgy humor differently depending on who said it

He defends his own jokes by saying:

"It was edgy humor."

"Private jokes."

"Context matters."

But when discussing her alleged racist image or edgy humor, he treats it as evidence of dangerous character. Shooshi is applying a different standard to himself than to her to, as stated again, paint her as unreliable and evil.

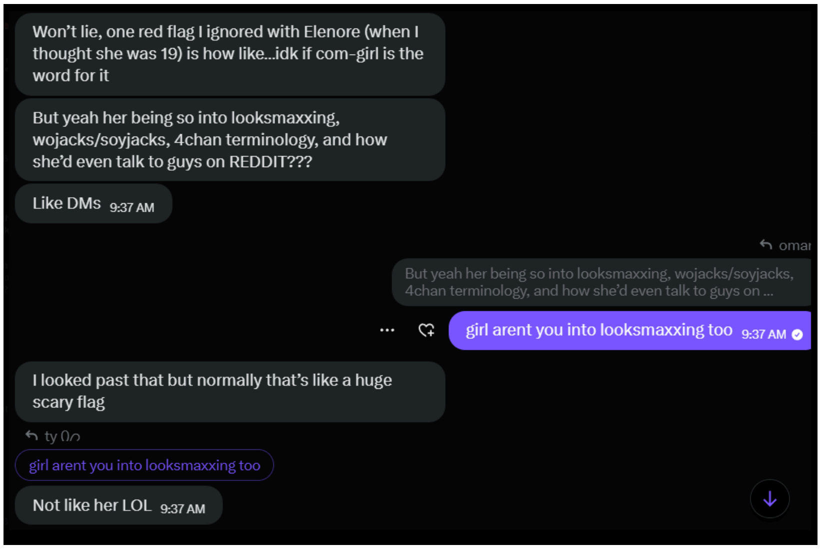
Furthermore, ShooshiMooshi focuses on true-crime content. For him to make these kinds of jokes, whether they are private or public, shows the gap between his true self and his public persona. As a 27 year old who makes videos about violent rape, he should know better than to make jokes about the same kind of rape. This gap begs the question of if he even means what he says in his videos or not? If he is even truly empathetic? In the worst case, this means his videos are not a place of him trying to spread awareness, but a place for him to leech off and profit off the suffering of others. All while painting himself as a moral authority.

He also talks about her being on “4 chan” as terrifying and how he is scared of people like that, especially because he sees them in many of the crime videos he covers.



Won’t lie, one red flag I ignored with Elenore (when I thought she was 19) is how like...idk if com-girl is the word for it

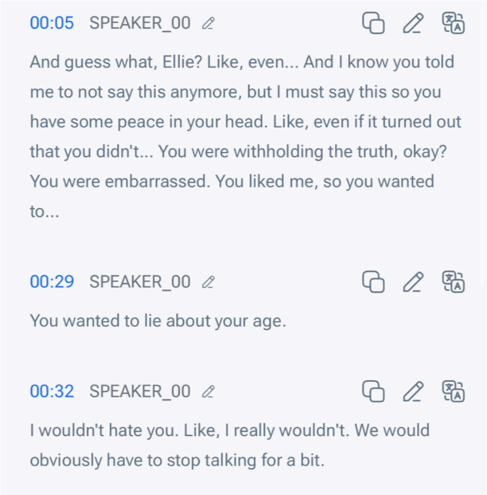
Here we can see he is admitting to knowing she was on those platforms while dating her. It makes it especially hypocritical because we can see he had no problem interacting with people that he is allegedly “scared of” and thinks the FBI needs to keep a watch over.

The "future when you're older" voice message

Shooshi's voice message to Japaniche girl. .ogg

Focus on the ending



00:05 SPEAKER_00

And guess what, Ellie? Like, even... And I know you told me to not say this anymore, but I must say this so you have some peace in your head. Like, even if it turned out that you didn't... You were withholding the truth, okay? You were embarrassed. You liked me, so you wanted to...

00:29 SPEAKER_00

You wanted to lie about your age.

00:32 SPEAKER_00

I wouldn't hate you. Like, I really wouldn't. We would obviously have to stop talking for a bit.

He spends several minutes explaining why

"Maybe when you're older reach out to me again"

wasn't intended romantically.

Whether people accept that explanation or not, it's easy to see why others would find the statement concerning. Despite him saying that he was just trying to get information from her, his words are just his words, there is no real proof he was being honest. Judging from his hypocritical behavior in the past, it wouldn’t be surprising if he actually wanted Elenore to reach out to him when she turned 18. It wouldn’t even be surprising if he was the first to reach out.

The ending mobilizes viewers

The final section says:

"We'll be waiting."

"We're going to debunk you."

"We're all going to leave comments."

Even if he never explicitly says "attack her," that language can be interpreted as rallying his audience against a specific person.

It can also be seen as a way to prevent Japanichegirl from speaking up, by scaring her.

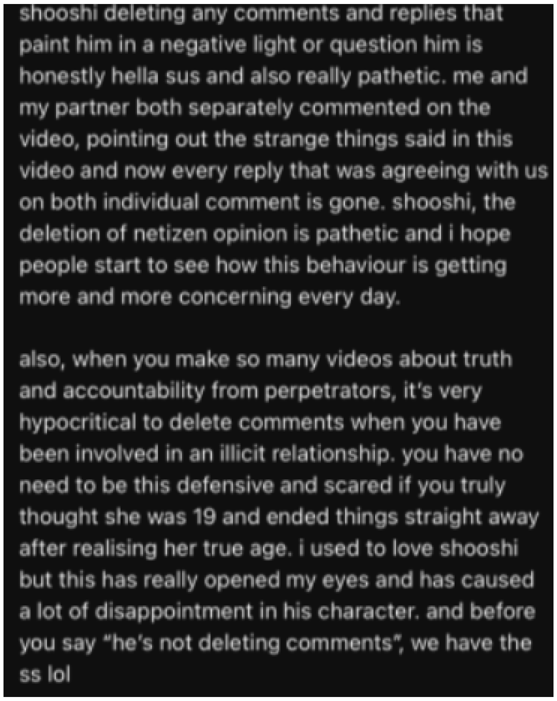
Youtube Video Comments

These were comments under the video calling him out and criticizing him, before the video got taken down. He is also notably shown to delete unfavorable comments. Note that @brunovlogging is shown in two screenshots, confirming this.



shooshi deleting any comments and replies that paint him in a negative light or question him is honestly hella sus and also really pathetic. me and my partner both separately commented on the video, pointing out the strange things said in this video and now every reply that was agreeing with us on both individual comment is gone. shooshi, the deletion of netizen opinion is pathetic and i hope people start to see how this behaviour is getting more and more concerning every day.

also, when you make so many videos about truth and accountability from perpetrators, it's very hypocritical to delete comments when you have been involved in an illicit relationship. you have no need to be this defensive and scared if you truly thought she was 19 and ended things straight away after realising her true age. i used to love shooshi but this has really opened my eyes and has caused a lot of disappointment in his character. and before you say "he's not deleting comments", we have the ss lol

You're no better than her.
Despite the fact that she might've mislead you into believing that she's 19, YOU'RE PUSHING 30 and should've never been talking to her in the first place!!! Not only that, but making r-pe "jokes" just to later "take accountability" isn't going to just magically throw away the fact that you made them in the first place, especially since your content goes on to discuss crimes and situations around this(making you fully aware of the weight these "jokes" hold).
Don't get me started with how you kept saying that it didn't matter if she was 15 and that she wasn't getting groomed since she was the one reaching out to older men. That is not how grooming works, she is clearly in need of help, she has clearly been groomed into thinking the way she does.

Lastly, you seem to only respond to comments that make you look good(or those that "see your side")none of those that are criticizing you, you're a hypocrite.

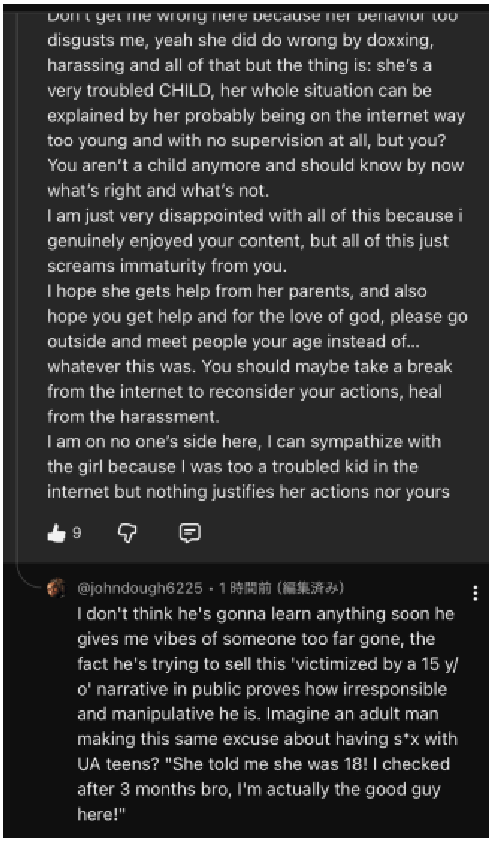
@lobotomist • 3 時間前 (編集済み)

please do not feel bad for him

shes 15-16, as stated by someone who claimed to know her in the video. if this is the case, this is a severe case of victim blaming

please reconsider being on his side. there's no such thing as a 15-16 yo "going after" older men. she is being groomed into these disturbed mannerisms. a child displaying concerning behavior is never for NO REASON. there is always outside factors, unstable environment, ect. like children having unmonitored internet access such as this, and getting lost in dangerous relationships with people who influence this dangerous behavior. nobody stops to think WHY a child is displaying concerning and disturbed behavior such as this. a child wouldn't be doing this for no reason. she



Don't get me wrong here because her behavior too disgusts me, yeah she did do wrong by doxxing, harassing and all of that but the thing is: she's a very troubled CHILD, her whole situation can be explained by her probably being on the internet way too young and with no supervision at all, but you? You aren't a child anymore and should know by now what's right and what's not.

I am just very disappointed with all of this because i genuinely enjoyed your content, but all of this just screams immaturity from you.

I hope she gets help from her parents, and also hope you get help and for the love of god, please go outside and meet people your age instead of... whatever this was. You should maybe take a break from the internet to reconsider your actions, heal from the harassment.

I am on no one's side here, I can sympathize with the girl because I was too a troubled kid in the internet but nothing justifies her actions nor yours

@johndough6225 • 1 時間前 (編集済み)

I don't think he's gonna learn anything soon he gives me vibes of someone too far gone, the fact he's trying to sell this 'victimized by a 15 y/o' narrative in public proves how irresponsible and manipulative he is. @shooshiMooshi Calling me disgusting when you're making rape jokes and profiting off someone else's trauma. Keep in mind, you're old enough to know the difference between right and wrong, yet you're actively defending yourself instead of holding yourself accountable. If you're truly sorry for your actions, you would take the time to reflect, yet here you are, liking comments that glaze your wrongdoings and justifying it with "19 is an adult!" Not to mention, you knew she was into 4Chan and the extreme side of the internet. The only reason you're exposing her now is because you're afraid she revealed you for who you are. Also, thanks for proving you're a horrible person. "I hope one day you got done dirty" too bad, I don't date younger women, unlike you 😂 😂

Here shooshiMooshi argues with someone who criticized him for the age gap. They also point out how he does not truly seem sorry as he is seen constantly deflecting and trying to make the 15 year old look evil and villainous.

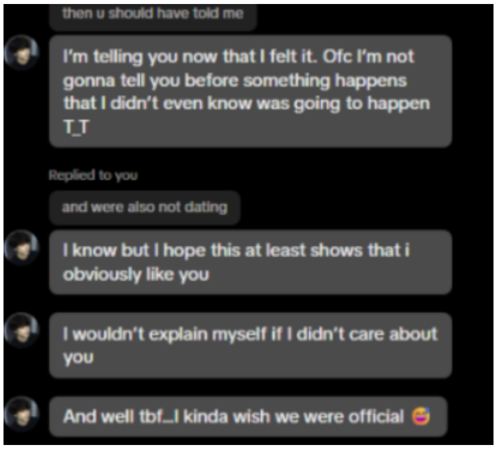
Japanichegirl

“Japanichegirl”

Japanichegirl is a 15 year old girl who had lied to Shooshimooshi and had told him she was 19.

The two met on tiktok, with Shooshimooshi following Japanichegirl, and her following him back. (It is also predatory and strange for a 27 year old content creator of his following to pursue romantic interactions on such an app, as it can lead to cases like these,) After a while, he asked her out and the two began dating. After they fell out, the whole situation turned into a public scandal.



then u should have told me

I’m telling you now that I felt it. Ofc I’m not gonna tell you before something happens that I didn’t even know was going to happen T_T

Replied to you and were also not dating

I know but I hope this at least shows that i obviously like you

I wouldn’t explain myself if I didn’t care about you

And well tbf...I kinda wish we were official 😅

Shooshimooshi asking Japanichegirl to date. This is after two months of them talking on discord/tikok.

This incident and shooshimooshi's handling of the situation shows how immature and irresponsible he is. Instead of treating her like her as a teenager, he antagonizes her, diagnoses her with mental illnesses, bullies her on the internet, and subjects her to harassment.

(see youtube video.)

There are also cases of Shooshimooshi accusing Japanichegirl of lying because she wanted to make him look like a pedophile, but there is no proof of that at all. Accusing Japanichegirl of serious misconduct like this is extremely irresponsible especially if the claim is baseless.

It is unclear whether or not Shooshimooshi knew her actual age or not during the relationship. They constantly joke in extremely edgy ways, and the Japanichegirls' behavior overall seems childish. There are also screenshots suggesting that there were various incidents where her age could have possibly been discovered, but brushed to the side.

You're a really cool person and I had fun playing games and stuff with you

On April 13th, ShooshiMooshi made an announcement in his Discord server, pinging thousands of members about a TikTok user known as Japanichegirl. In the announcement, he claimed that he had been talking to and online dating her before discovering that she had lied about her age. Japanichegirl was 15 years old at the time, while ShooshiMooshi (Omar) was 27.

CHECK TIMELINE FOR INCIDENTS LEADING UP TO THIS

@everyone emergency announcement. so as some of you guys may be aware. i got into drama recenly in regards to a girl on tiktok. she had told me she's 19 and after talking for a couple months, we began dating and commenting on eachother's tiktoks. Some people noticed...including people that knew her. It was brought to my attention just today, that there is high reason to beleive she was lying about her age. I spent all today begging for identification and she dodged every time. Now that i've cut ties with her, she has now threatened to release doctored images/audios of me saying inappropriate things. whether they're slurs or wtv lol. Proof of this is coming shortly on here. stay tuned and be ready to fight back against the claims

By bringing the situation to a Discord server with over 11,000 members and publicly identifying a minor, he effectively directed a large audience's attention toward her. Although he framed the announcement as a defense against what he described as false allegations, it contributed to a wave of harassment against the girl. Following the announcement, Japanichegirl stated that she received numerous hateful messages, including death threats and r*pe threats, from members of his audience.

Scroll for more

Japanichegirl began posting screenshots, clips, and messages that showed ShooshiMooshi using slurs, making racist and sexist jokes, and engaging in behavior that contradicted the image he presents in his content. (See other tabs) Rather than accepting the evidence as authentic, ShooshiMooshi publicly disregarded some of the evidence, claiming they had been altered, taken out of context, or generated using AI.

Some of his own fans began questioning inconsistencies in his explanations and criticizing aspects of his behavior. Server channels were eventually locked, restricted, or purged, limiting further public debate about the situation.

It is also notable that anyone who didn't agree with Shooshimooshi was banned.

I don't wish to be associated with controversies like this regardless of the truth of the situation, and being in charge of a server with 11k people in it is way too much pressure and stress, especially when it comes to the audience this content brings with it. I'm about to graduate college and I don't have the time or energy to spend

Before publicly putting on your story that someone has done something serious, you should always ask for proof beforehand. Accusing Japanichegirl of horrible things with 0 proof is extremely irresponsible of Shooshimooshi. His willingness to put such things in his stories encourages others to tell lies in order for Shooshi, a big content creator, to notice them as well. Spreading misinformation is already illegal, but spreading misinformation about a minor is worse as it will affect the rest of their life. Japanichegirl seems to have no motive to press charges or sue, only wanting to spread the word to protect potential victims in the future.

Furthermore, Japanichegirl is a young girl, and Shooshimooshi has a large platform. When applying to colleges and jobs in the future, jobs and such doing background checks will be under the impression that Japanichegirl is a criminal manipulative mastermind along with the false claim that she is a “sociopath.” Even if her name gets renewed, this reputation will follow her for the rest of her life. As an adult with a large platform, he should have known better than to not fact-check.

This is important as it shows that the DM from Hamsturr telling Shooshimooshi he had proof of Japanichegirl being 14-15 wasn't anything new.

It is also important to note that he ignored that dm at first as well. (See April 13th)

Below are screenshots of a conversation between Shooshimooshi and Japanichegirl, where he discusses that there are "rumors" of her being a minor circulating.

The messages are now unavailable as he has deleted all of these messages. However, they were exported. Keep in mind the messages also seem flipped.

during our convo above, i was a little nerved up

Above, it is shown that Shooshimooshi had not discussed anything with Japanichegirl and had argued with multiple people about her age without her knowledge.

le 04/12/2026 at 12:16 AM EDT
Should I dm her on ig

shooshimooshi 04/12/2026 at 12:16 AM EDT
the cockiness was insane

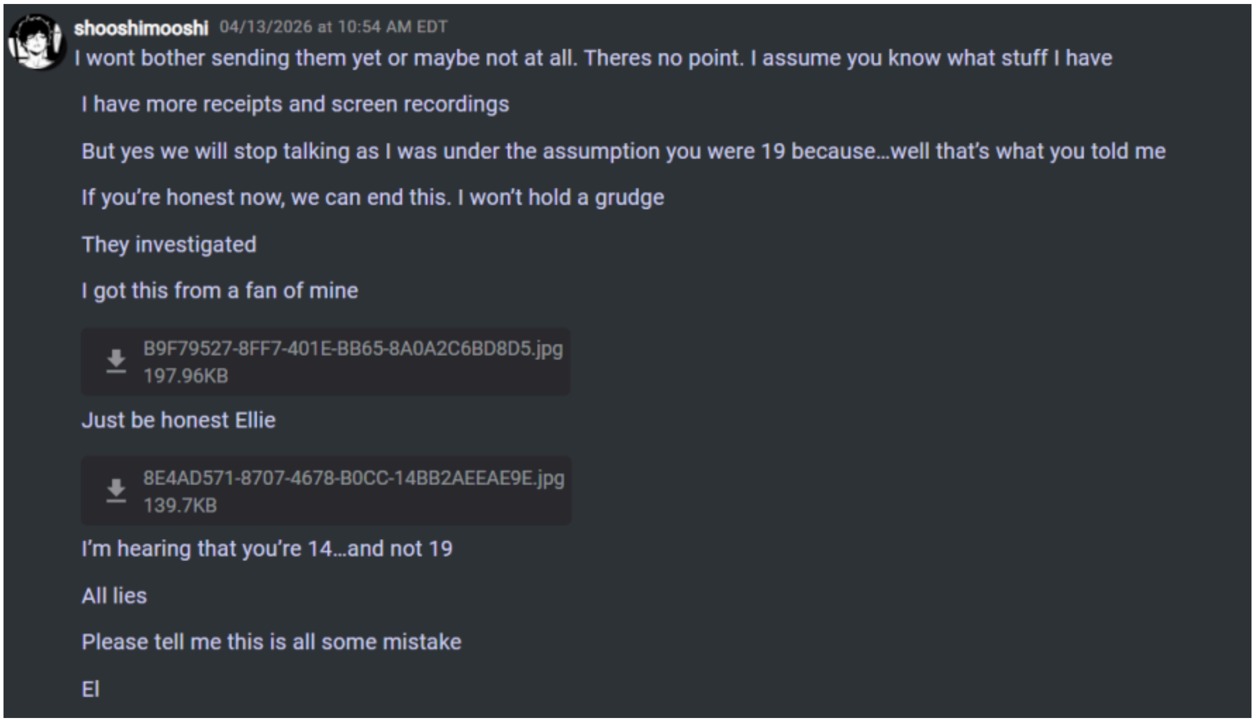
i just hated how confidently she was speaking

Below, they discuss how people had found her reposts from November 2025 that consisted of things talking about school seating. The reposts were reminiscent of what a highschool teenager would post, hence why they were sent to Shooshimooshi. However, at this point, Shooshimooshi still has yet to question Japanichegirl about her age, showing his low regard for potentially dating a minor.

April 13th fallout

This is the day that Shooshimooshi and Japanichegirl had their falling out. On the same day, Shooshimooshi made a discord announcement about Japanichegirl.

Someone Japanichegirl used to know had messaged Shooshimooshi telling him they had proof of her being 15.



shooshimooshi 04/13/2026 at 10:54 AM EDT

I wont bother sending them yet or maybe not at all. Theres no point. I assume you know what stuff I have Japanichegirl then threatens to expose him for being racist if he doesn't block Hamsturr, the guy who has hard proof. This alone is very suspicious, and almost confirms the fact that she's a minor. Once an adult thinks someone might be 15, the correct move is to end contact immediately, not continue while unsure.

This is where the conversation takes a turn. Shooshimooshi gets defensive and calls anything Japanichegirl has “AI.” You can see Japanichegirl visibly confused as to why he was speaking weirdly. If you see the cropped versions of these screenshots he uses as evidence, it makes sense on why he was talking the way he is.

but yeah i want this here in writing they're lying. and you're 19 yes? so you can consent to sex as a legal adult yes? im being kinda crude and blunt

okay

i need to go soon so

She apologizes, and he drops it. “Do you want to stay together or no”

Again, he states that as long as she provides proof when they meet IRL it's fine, and that they can continue the relationship. However, that doesn't erase the fact that he's still willing to meet with someone even with the knowledge that they may potentially be a minor.

It's also noteworthy that Shooshimooshi used cropped versions of these texts as proof that Japanichegirl was faking messages of him being racist.

After these messages, Japanichegirl sends a photo of a suspicious fake ID to Shooshimooshi. Again, he did not end contact there, and continued to engage with her,

Messages after she sent the ID:

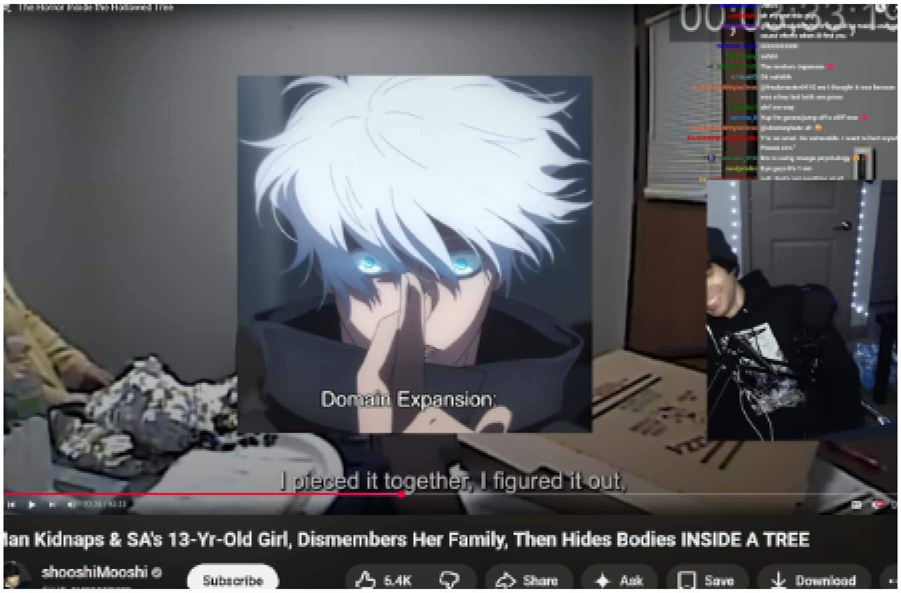
Shooshimooshi's Coverage of Victims and True Crime Content

One of the primary issues with Shooshimooshi's documentary and commentary content is the way victims are represented. When discussing serious subjects such as murder, sexual assault, abuse, or other traumatic events, creators have a responsibility to approach the topic with care and respect.

A recurring criticism of Shooshimooshi's videos is that they often provide limited original analysis while relying heavily on information already presented in existing documentaries or YouTube videos. In many cases, his commentary consists of surface-level observations or conclusions that viewers could easily reach on their own.

Another concern is the tone used throughout these videos. Serious topics are frequently interrupted by jokes, humor, or reactions that can come across as insensitive given the nature of the crimes being discussed. While humor has a place in entertainment, many viewers believe it is inappropriate when discussing the suffering of victims and their families.



Domain Expansion:

I pieced it together, I figured it out, lan Kidnaps & SA's 13-Yr-Old Girl, Dismembers Her Family, Then Hides Bodies INSIDE A TREE

As you can see here, Shooshimooshi makes a joke that doesn't fit the title of the video at all, and you can see him laughing.

See response to criticism for thumbnail examples.

Shooshimooshi's Coverage of Victims and True Crime Content

Additionally, there are concerns regarding the way Shooshimooshi presents himself to his audience. His audience includes a significant number of teenagers and minors. Despite this, he has previously engaged in content and self-presentation that some viewers perceive as sexually suggestive, including wearing items such as a shock collar, making thirst-trap style content, and using outfits associated with fetishized online aesthetics. This type of content is inappropriate for a creator whose audience contains many underage viewers.

Many creators with large teenage audiences take active steps to avoid content that could be interpreted as sexual or inappropriate. When accidental misunderstandings occur, these creators often address the issue directly and adjust their behavior accordingly. Shooshimooshi has not demonstrated the same level of awareness or responsibility.

Ultimately, the concern is not simply that Shooshimooshi covers serious topics, but that his approach may prioritize entertainment and personal branding over thoughtful research, meaningful analysis, and respectful representation of victims. Given the sensitive nature of the subjects he discusses, viewers have a reasonable expectation that victims and their stories will be treated with care, accuracy, and respect.

Response to criticism

Response to Criticism regarding insensitivity

Criticism of Shooshimooshi's content is not limited to a small group of viewers. A public post criticizing his handling of true crime content received lots of support from former viewers, many of whom shared similar concerns about his behavior.

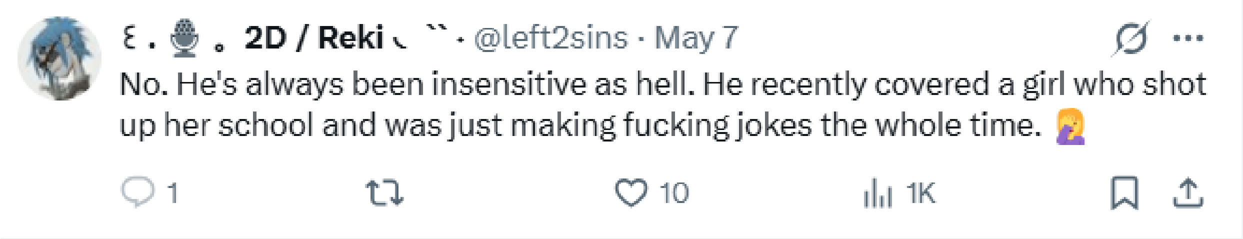
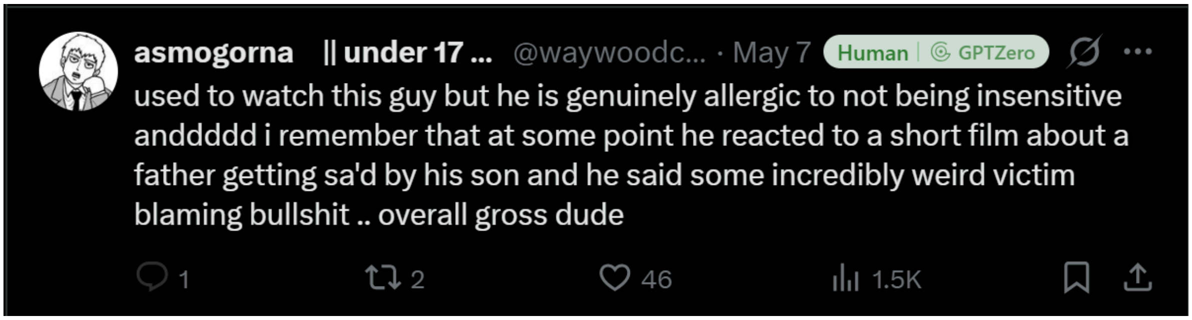
A recurring complaint was that Shooshimooshi treats serious crimes with an inappropriate level of humor. Multiple commenters described him as insensitive toward victims, arguing that he frequently interrupts discussions of murder, sexual assault, grooming, and abuse with jokes or commentary that undermines the seriousness of the subject matter.



꒰ . 🎙 。2D / Reki ◟ `` · @left2sins · May 7

No. He's always been insensitive as hell. He recently covered a girl who shot up her school and was just making fucking jokes the whole time. 🤦‍♀️



asmogorna ‖ under 17 ... @waywoodc... · May 7

used to watch this guy but he is genuinely allergic to not being insensitive anddddd i remember that at some point he reacted to a short film about a father getting sa'd by his son and he said some incredibly weird victim blaming bullshit .. overall gross dude

Several former fans stated that they stopped watching his content because of these patterns. Some specifically referenced videos in which they felt he made inappropriate jokes while discussing grooming, sexual abuse, or violent crimes. Others criticized his thumbnails and titles, arguing that they sensationalize tragedy for engagement while failing to show respect for victims.

Rather than coming from individuals who already disliked him, much of the backlash came from viewers who had supported his channel before becoming uncomfortable with the direction of his content.

Examples of criticism included that he engaged in victim-blaming commentary, made jokes during discussions of serious crimes, used disrespectful thumbnails, fat-shamed individuals featured in cases he covered, and generally approached sensitive topics with a lack of maturity and empathy.

i hate shooshimooshi i remember the live about the trans school shooter and his weird ass comments/constant misgendering

The consistency of these complaints is significant. While any individual criticism could be dismissed as a disagreement in taste, the volume of similar concerns raised by different viewers suggests a broader pattern that many members of his audience have independently noticed.

Disappearance and murder of Gannon Stauch

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Gannon Stauch (September 29, 2008 – January 27, 2020) was an American boy who was murdered by his stepmother, Letecia Hardin (then Stauch), in Colorado Springs, Colorado.[1] His disappearance and death received national attention and sparked a massive search effort involving multiple law enforcement agencies and volunteers.[2] His stepmother was arrested and convicted of first-degree murder and other charges, and sentenced to life in prison without parole.[3] Hardin's conviction was overturned on April 2, 2026 with the Colorado Court of Appeals finding that one of the jurors was biased due to being within three degrees of separation from the state's attorneys.

He is seen here making a thirsttrap alongside the faces and stories in which he talks and the murder of young children. Instead of apologizing, his response is to simply delete the post and act like it never happened in the first place.

I'll make a video addressing this since it's valid criticism but I'll get started here & clarify a lot of stuff that's being unfairly said. Firstly, the face is genuine. It's not some performative thing I sat down to do off stream for thumbnails. That face is of genuine horror from a video 💀. But yeah it 100% looks inappropriate here 🙏🏻.

Secondly, the title. Shocking? Yes. Inaccurate or exaggerated? No. It's exactly what happens and I see no problem with it. Paired with the face tho? Looks crazy yeah. I apologize for that!

Thirdly, I see people, including the poster, literally ADMITTING to not watching my content and then go on to label the ENTIRE content as insensitive to victims 😃? If you watch my videos I do indeed crack jokes... by roasting the criminals/monsters. I ALWAYS have extended serious moments where I instruct my audience to send prayers/love to the victims and to say rip. I'll even touch on the political/societal issues that I believe led the situation to happen, because I want bad stuff to happen less.

As for the jokes I'll sometimes crack during short films about mental health issues or disorders etc. I'll crack jokes to break the tension and make affected members of my audience feel safe & comfy. As if they were with a friend that doesn't just see them as a label (of a disorder or as a victim), but rather I see them as a normal person I can mess around with. They love it and I've received countless messages letting me know that if it wasn't for my unique vibe, they wouldn't have ever been able to watch the videos we watch together, and thus, never been made aware of certain issues. I get my approach isn't everyone's cup of tea, and sometimes I can come across insensitive at first glance. You can hate me for my execution, but just understand there's also a reason people love me for that execution. There's people who cover these issues more serious/professional than me. Go support THEM then. I bring a much less serious vibe but yeah I'll incorporate this criticism moving forward

Tone-Deaf Response to Criticism

The response is tone-deaf because it focuses almost entirely on defending his intentions rather than addressing the criticism itself. Instead of acknowledging why people found his thumbnails, titles, and commentary disrespectful, he repeatedly explains why he believes his approach is acceptable.

The apology is also extremely narrow. He apologizes for how the thumbnail looked, but not for the broader issue of using humor, exaggerated reactions, and entertainment-focused content while discussing real victims of murder, sexual assault, grooming, and abuse.

Much of the statement shifts the conversation away from the criticism by pointing to fans who enjoy his content or claiming that critics have not watched enough of his videos. Whether some people enjoy the content is irrelevant to whether the content itself is appropriate.

By the end of the statement, the focus is no longer on the victims being discussed, but on defending his personal brand and content style. Rather than demonstrating an understanding of why people were uncomfortable, the response largely serves as a justification for continuing the same approach, which he still does.

Furthermore, despite claiming the faces are genuine, he consistently reuses the same photos, layouts, and quotes. He hardly puts any efforts into his videos, leeching off the suffering of others.

Racism

Racism

Most of these racist clips are from his time with japanichegirl. It could be thought that because she exhibited racist behaviors/ humor, he also did the same to try to be cool/impress her, as she is notably younger than him. That doesn't excuse the behavior at all. The fact that he was racist in order to impress a girl shows his moral compass is weak, which is concerning for someone who makes the content he does.

He also argues much of this is AI or fabricated.

Here is Shooshimooshi indirectly admitting to it:
Screen recording od Dms between Japanichegirl and Shooshimooshi where he indirectly …

Also see the timeline tab for why this isn't plausible, along with the youtube video tab.

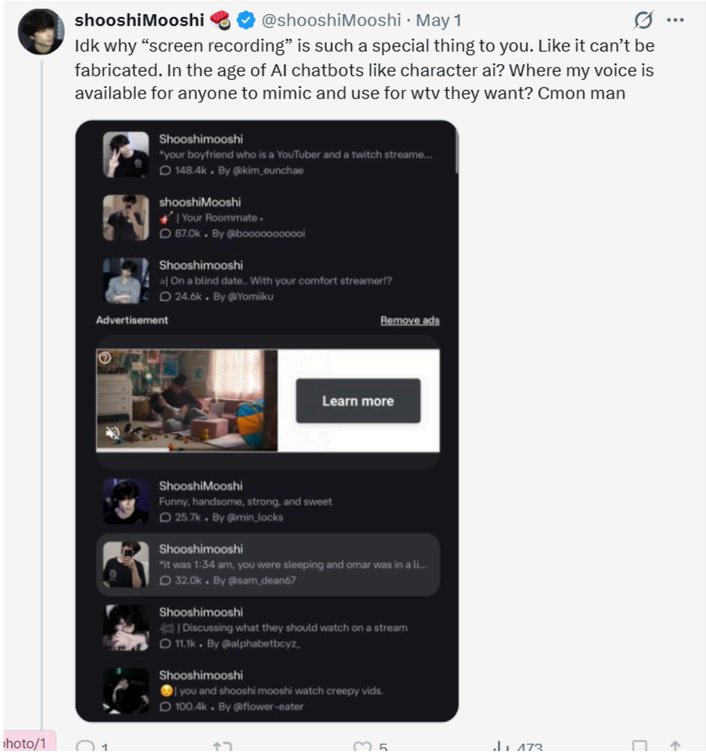
Screenshot where shooshimooshi and japanichegirl discuss how they would be in trouble if people found out he was dating someone who said the n word (her).

This is a voice recording Shooshi sent to Japanichegirl, in which, he said the n-word. The voice message contains several human qualities, such as coughing.
https://drive.google.com/file/d/1s0lp8nUVAPM0wqgaVkM3NVFta0DpeXGk/view

He states this is ai, specifically character.ai which doesn't have the capability to do things such as say the n word or cough. In fact, for most AI voice generators, the n-word is against the guidelines and the AI isn't able to generate any audio clips with the n-word. The audio clip also shows as 100% human when put in an AI detector.



shooshiMooshi @shooshiMooshi · May 1

Idk why “screen recording” is such a special thing to you. Like it can’t be fabricated. In the age of AI chatbots like character ai? Where my voice is available for anyone to mimic and use for wtv they want? Cmon man

His argument towards that is “using ai to detect ai is not valid.” An AI detector being imperfect does not automatically invalidate its findings. A tool can have false positives and still provide meaningful evidence when its results are considered alongside other supporting factors. In all of the evidence below, we see why his argument is weak, all our evidence below along with the AI detector proves the likelihood of him saying the n-word.

Below shows a screenshot of Shooshi’s dms with Japanichegirl, in which he uses racial slurs and calls a singer, Justin Bieber, his goat for being racist. Goat means “Greatest of all time,” so Shooshi is directly praising Justin Bieber for saying the n-word. It is also important to note that Justin Bieber is a Zionist, so idolizing a zionist contradicts with Shooshi’s public liberal beliefs.

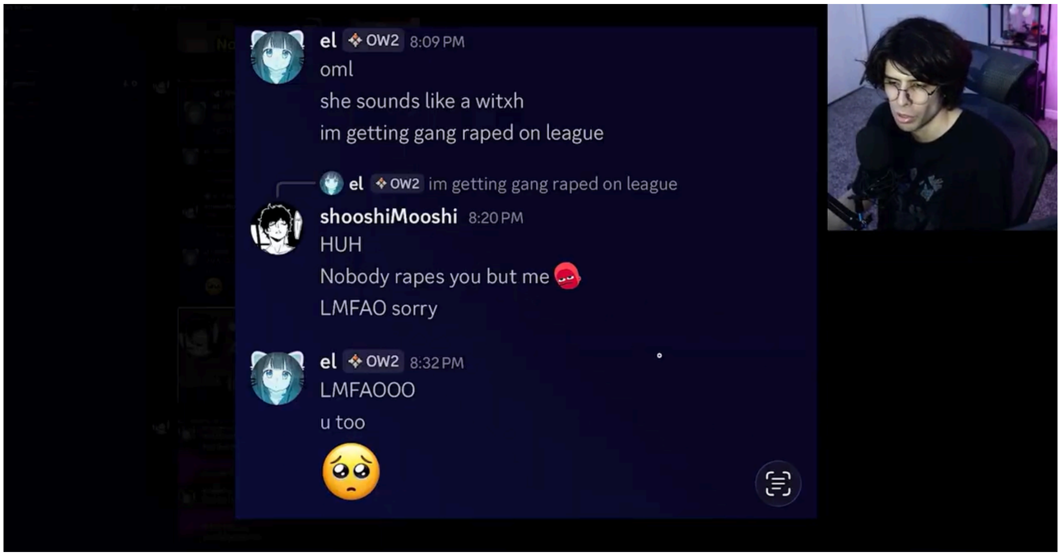
rape jokes

R*pe Jokes

One of the most disturbing aspects of ShooshiMooshi's behavior is not simply that he made r*pe jokes, but that he did so while building a platform centered around discussing crimes, victims, abuse, and moral accountability

It is also notable that these rape jokes were made with a (assumed) 19 year old. Shooshimooshi is 27. It is apparent he doesn't have boundaries with his younger girlfriend (at the time) at all.

Here is a screenshot of Shooshimooshi “explaining” the screenshot in his now deleted youtube video



el OW2 8:09 PM

el OW2 im getting gang raped on league
shooshiMooshi 8:20 PM
HUH
Nobody rapes you but me
LMFAO sorry

el OW2 8:32 PM
LMFAOOO
u too

At 20:52–21:01, ShooshiMooshi acknowledges saying, "Nobody r*pes you but me", which he describes as a joke made in response to another joke in a private conversation. Regardless of context, this is an unusually inappropriate thing to say, especially for a creator whose content frequently discusses abuse, misconduct, and other serious topics.

At 21:10–21:18, he defends the exchange by saying, "That's just how we joked, okay? It was really edgy. It was private."

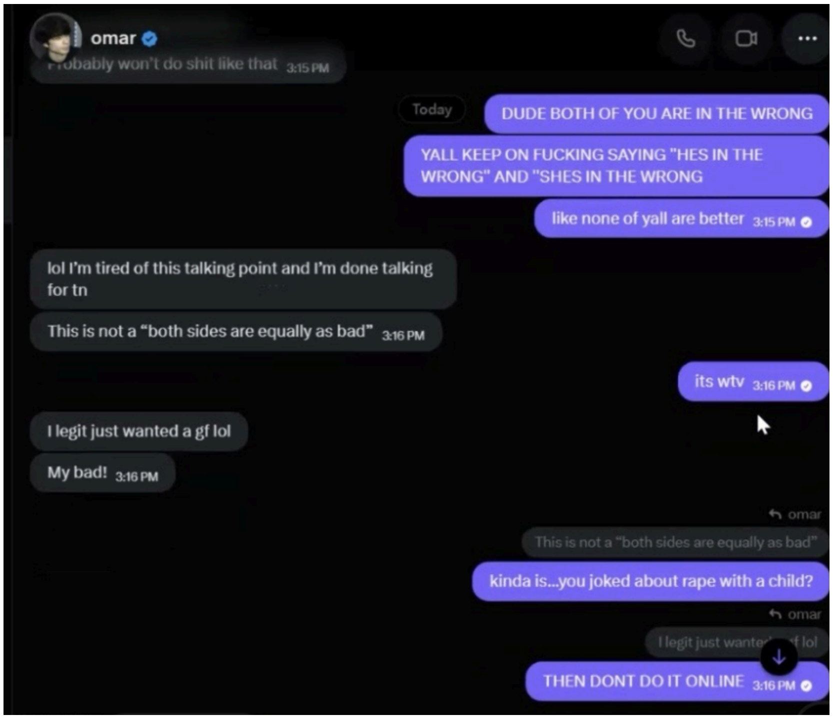
🎬 Exposing a Girl That is Trying To Ruin My Life...Others May Be in Danger.mp4

A significant portion of his content involves covering serious cases involving exploitation, violence, and other forms of harm. Someone who regularly discusses these topics should understand why joking about sexual violence is fundamentally different from ordinary edgy humor. The issue is not whether the jokes were intended literally, but that they trivialized a crime that has affected countless victims while coming from a creator who profits from discussing the suffering of others.

In this conversation below, Shooshimooshi gets increasingly heated at someone for criticizing him (notably about his rape jokes) and shows his true feelings about the jokes. In his video, he appears somewhat apologetic, however, when someone calls him out for joking about rape with a child, he turns it around on that person, saying it's "fucking gross" for them to criticize him.



Probably won't do shit like that 3:15 PM

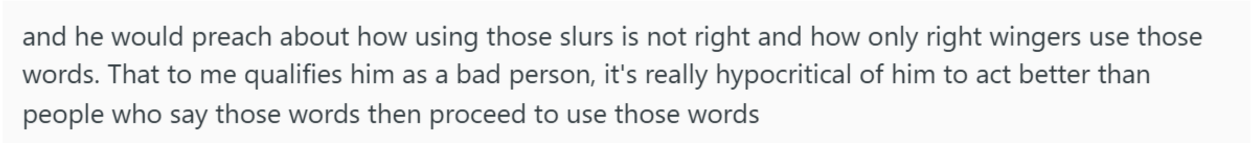
Homophobia

Homophobia

Shooshimooshi's fanbase consists of many people of the LGBTQ community. He puts himself as a reliable, accepting persona in front of others, however, he has admitted to the past use of the f-slur and his association with individuals who have used similar language.



and he would preach about how using those slurs is not right and how only right wingers use those words. That to me qualifies him as a bad person, it's really hypocritical of him to act better than people who say those words then proceed to use those words

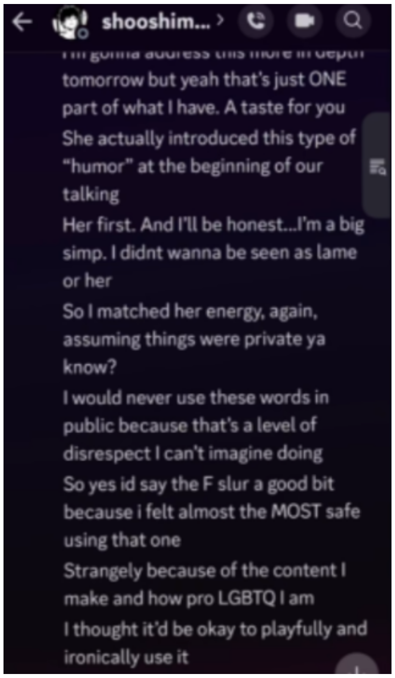
Screenshots and messages Japanichegirl has shared show him using the slur himself, something he later acknowledged and apologized for. He has attempted to characterize these comments as edgy humor or mistakes from the past.

See below.



I'm gonna address this more in depth tomorrow but yeah that's just ONE part of what I have. A taste for you

She actually introduced this type of "humor" at the beginning of our talking

Her first. And I'll be honest...I'm a big simp. I didnt wanna be seen as lame or her

So I matched her energy, again, assuming things were private ya know?

I would never use these words in public because that's a level of disrespect I can't imagine doing

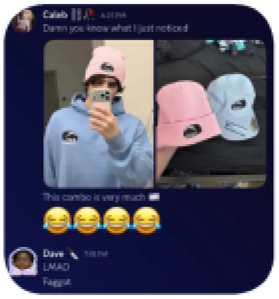
So yes id say the F slur a good bit because i felt almost the MOST safe using that one

Strangely because of the content I make and how pro LGBTQ I am

I thought it'd be okay to playfully and ironically use it

Here he says he matched the 19 year old he was dating "energy" which is why he used slurs.

He also has continued association with individuals who regularly used similar slurs or engaged in offensive behavior. This shows that the standards he applies in private spaces and friend groups aren't consistent with his online persona.



Damn you know what I just noticed

This combo is very much 🏳️‍⚧️

Faggot

In this screenshot, Shooshi's friend calls him the f slur for wearing a color combination consisting of the trans flag.

It is important to note that this means he uses it outside of his interactions with Japanichegirl.

The criticism is not solely about a single word or isolated incident. Rather, it concerns a broader pattern in which offensive language is dismissed as humor when it comes from himself or people close to him, while similar behavior is often treated much more seriously when discussing others. As a result, critics argue that his apology addressed the public backlash surrounding the slur but failed to fully explain why he was comfortable using that language in the first place or why he continued associating with others who did the same.

Directing Harassment

Shooshimooshi has time and time again abused his access to a large audience across multiple platforms, including hundreds of thousands of YouTube subscribers, an 11,000-member Discord server, and tens of thousands of Instagram followers to send hate and harassment towards people, notably minors.

Bitch I don't give a fuck I actually hate you more now 😂

Here is shooshimooshi posting peoples accounts, all minors, onto his story under the guise that they were lying about Japanichegirl being a minor. Keep in mind he did not consult her before posting this.

At least one of the minors(14) reportedly received harassment from members of his community. When that individual later entered his Discord server to ask that the story be removed, they were met with hostility, insulted, banned from the server, and had their account displayed again during a livestream, resulting in even more public attention being directed toward them.

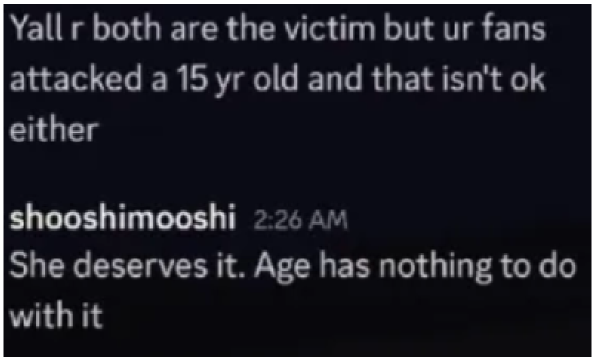
He never apologized to these people, who also happened to be right.

Similar concerns were raised regarding Japanichegirl. After ShooshiMooshi publicly discussed his conflict with her in front of his Discord community and later expanded the controversy to his wider audience, she stated that she received large amounts of harassment, including death threats and rape threats. While ShooshiMooshi repeatedly stated that he did not support threats or direct harassment, there are several screenshots of shooshimooshi contradicting himself . Making a 15-year-old out to be an evil mentally sick individual created a foreseeable risk of exactly that outcome. They contend that creators with large platforms have a responsibility to consider the consequences of identifying private individuals—especially minors—to their audiences.



Yall r both are the victim but ur fans attacked a 15 yr old and that isn't ok either

shooshimooshi 2:26 AM

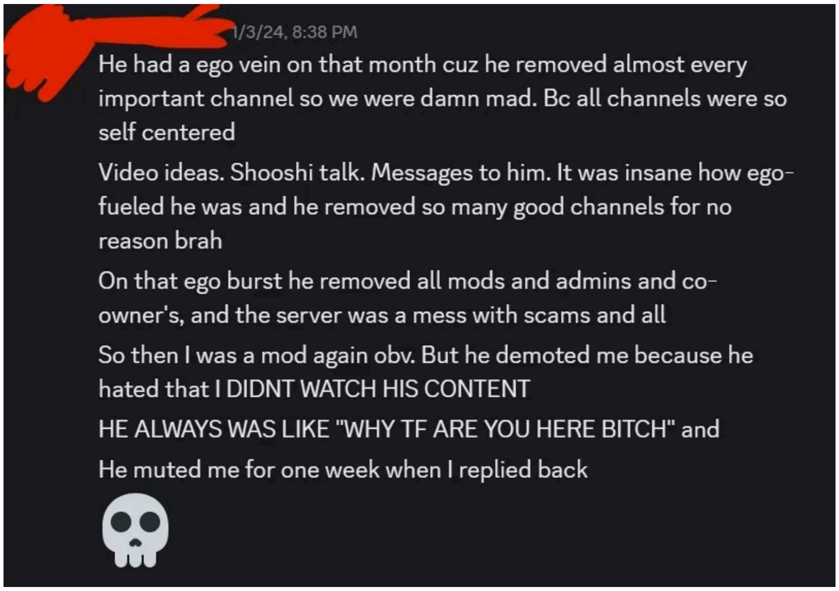
Personality

Incident #1

Below is a testimony from his mod, regarding Shooshi's ego and personality.



[redacted] 1/3/24, 8:38 PM

He had a ego vein on that month cuz he removed almost every important channel so we were damn mad. Bc all channels were so self centered

Video ideas. Shooshi talk. Messages to him. It was insane how ego-fueled he was and he removed so many good channels for no reason brah

On that ego burst he removed all mods and admins and co-owner's, and the server was a mess with scams and all

So then I was a mod again obv. But he demoted me because he hated that I DIDNT WATCH HIS CONTENT

HE ALWAYS WAS LIKE "WHY TF ARE YOU HERE BITCH" and

He muted me for one week when I replied back

[redacted] 1/3/24, 8:35 PM

Yo and when shit goes wrong in his server, he calls this friend to !purge everything

He did so many things and hid them doing they bruh

He demonized suicidal people back in 2022

We used to have a #venting channel and he removed it bc he said people talking about considering to kill themselves was not fucking normal and threw in a lot of slurs and started talking mighty about how his "YouTuber server didint need that crazy shit"

And he talked super bad about them and then his bud went and removed everything bc the whole server was against him lol

It is understandable to be confused why someone would work for you despite not being a fan of your content. But rather than treating it with frustration, most people would be thankful. Instead of being angry with the mod, if he wasn't comfortable with having a non-fan as a mod, he should have quietly demoted them instead of taking it out on the mod.

Incident #2

Furthermore, as a content creator and a 27-year old (he should be mature), he should know how to handle arguments and “attacks.” See below (from his own discord server). What Bofa just saw as a popular meme regarding Shooshi at the time, Shooshi saw as a personal attack, escalating the situation into an argument. If Shooshi was upset at the meme, he should have advised fans not to talk about it, but instead he took it out on a fan, directing actual personal insults to the fan. Not being able to take an apology and seeing it as “woah man chill” shows his character as well.

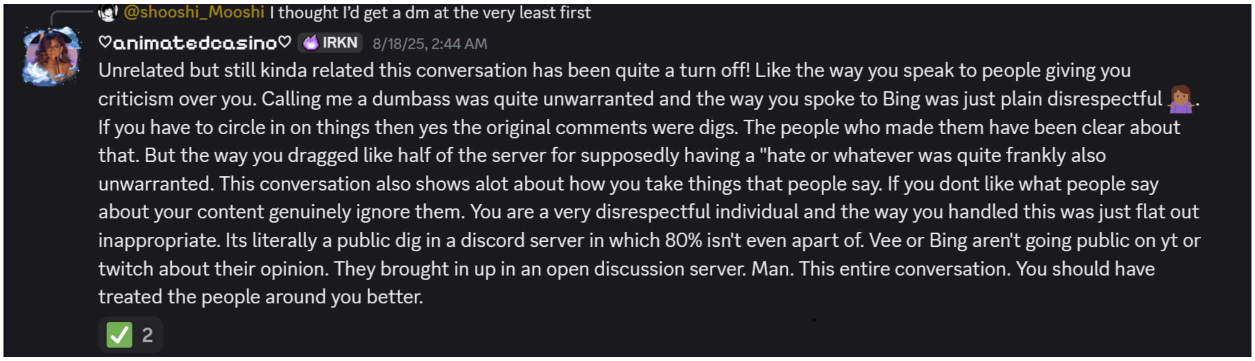
It is unclear what the argument was originally about, but it seemed to be because Acidix made fun of a typo in a title, which Shooshimooshi saw as a personal attack on his character. This video may have been the video Shooshi made about the Schelp-roblox situation. The argument later stemmed into how his account used to be based on Vocaloid content but now it’s true crime content. Bing and others argued about how the content feels lazy and stolen, and Shooshi Mooshi took offense to that.

His ex-mod, Animated Casino made a good point about why this shows how Shooshi can’t take criticism.



@shooshi_Mooshi I thought I'd get a dm at the very least first

♡animatedcasino♡ IRKN 8/18/25, 2:44 AM

Unrelated but still kinda related this conversation has been quite a turn off! Like the way you speak to people giving you criticism over you. Calling me a dumbass was quite unwarranted and the way you spoke to Bing was just plain disrespectful 🤷🏾‍♀️. If you have to circle in on things then yes the original comments were digs. The people who made them have been clear about that. But the way you dragged like half of the server for supposedly having a "hate or whatever was quite frankly also unwarranted. This conversation also shows alot about how you take things that people say. If you dont like what people say about your content genuinely ignore them. You are a very disrespectful individual and the way you handled this was just flat out inappropriate. Its literally a public dig in a discord server in which 80% isn't even apart of. Vee or Bing aren't going public on yt or twitch about their opinion. They brought in up in an open discussion server. Man. This entire conversation. You should have treated the people around you better.

Body-Shaming & ED Concerns

About

This section is not intended to claim that ShooshiMooshi has an eating disorder, nor is it arguing that someone should be condemned solely for having one. Rather, the purpose of this section is to examine statements, content, and behavior that may contribute to the normalization, promotion, or encouragement of unhealthy attitudes toward food, weight, and body image.

Additionally, as a creator whose content frequently focuses on criticizing harmful behavior and holding others accountable, repeated instances of fat-shaming, body-shaming, or mocking people's appearances are relevant to evaluating whether their public conduct aligns with the standards they apply to others.

Fatshaming / Bodyshaming

shooshimooshi 03/31/2026 at 11:28 PM EDT

Well just like 3

I got cringe ass comments today

This is a post Shooshi made on May 5th. Many true crime criminals and victims come from marginalized backgrounds. Effective and empathetic storytelling in that space requires not punching down at those same traits. It undermines any claim to caring about justice or humanity in the cases he covers. When talking about a horrible person, why should insulting their appearance be a priority over discussing the actions they have done? Furthermore, ordinary people can share those same physical traits as terrible people. Using these physical traits as an attack associates these traits as a degrading label. In reality, appearance has no direct correlation to morality, so this degradation is unfair.

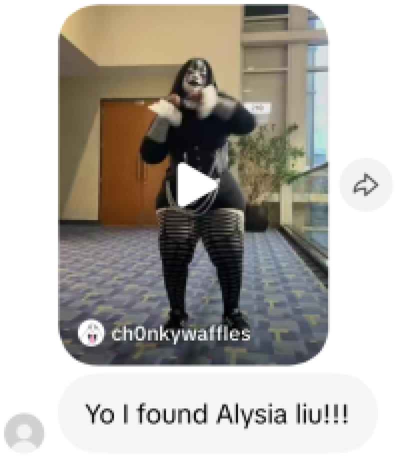
I'm ripping off someone on Twitter but they're right so. But yeah she's just not that great. Figure skating is an art and part of it is elegance and how you look (aka your body)

She's...I'm sorry but fatter than the elite skaters

Tree trunk legs



Yo I found Alysia liu!!!

ShooshiMooshi compares Alysa Liu to a larger-bodied girl in a negative way, implying that Alysa's appearance is something to be mocked. This is particularly concerning because Alysa Liu appears to be at a healthy weight. Figure skating has long struggled with unhealthy body standards that have contributed to eating disorders and body image issues among young athletes. For many people, Alysa's success represents a healthier alternative to those expectations. Mocking her appearance reinforces the same harmful attitudes that have negatively impacted countless skaters for years.

@Samuelaaaaa HK How are you so fucking skinny

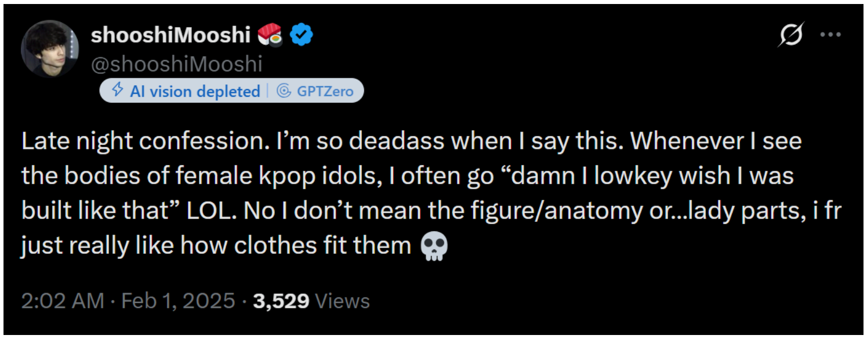
shooshi_Mooshi 7/21/24, 2:14 PM

Yes

Deadass that's why I drink it

Curbs hunger and keeps me thin

Shooshi Mooshi has a large platform and he is often idolized for his appearance. Notably as "transition goals." When he frames drinking Diet Coke as a method to suppress hunger, he's presenting disordered eating as a normal, even desirable lifestyle tip. The demographic of his server is largely minors, and younger fans might internalize "curbing hunger to remain thin" as acceptable logic.



shooshiMooshi 🍣

@shooshiMooshi

Late night confession. I'm so deadass when I say this. Whenever I see the bodies of female kpop idols, I often go "damn I lowkey wish I was built like that" LOL. No I don't mean the figure/anatomy or...lady parts, i fr just really like how clothes fit them 💀

2:02 AM · Feb 1, 2025 · 3,529 Views

Above shows a twitter/x post ShooshiMooshi made on the first of February in 2025. The body of K-pop idols are often products of extremely restrictive dieting and intense industry pressure. Expressing envy of how clothes fit them is essentially idealizing the aesthetic outputs of those same harmful conditions. This reinforces a pattern of idealizing bodies that are largely unattainable and unrealistic without disordered habits.

Is losing 25-30lbs in 4 months too harsh?

I'm a 22 year old male, 5'10, and currently weigh ~165lbs. I've weighed this much for a WHILE now and truth be told I'm not happy with my build and wish to be slimmer. I just now set a timeframe of 4 months for myself to change for the better but I just don't know what amount of weight I should strive for. Is 25-30lbs too much or even doable? Tbh I'd love to see how I look like at 140 but I just don't know. Any feedback would be appreciated!

Above shows a reddit post from Shooshimooshi's personal reddit account, 0m4r-kun. The rate of 25-30lbs in 4 months is aggressive enough that it would likely require severe caloric restriction for most people. In this post, Shooshimooshi clearly already expresses dissatisfaction with his body at a clinically normal weight for their height: “I’m not happy with my build..” This reflects distorted body image rather than a genuine health concern, a core feature of disordered eating patterns.

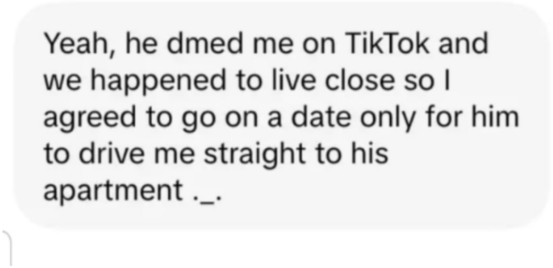
Real Life Incidents

About

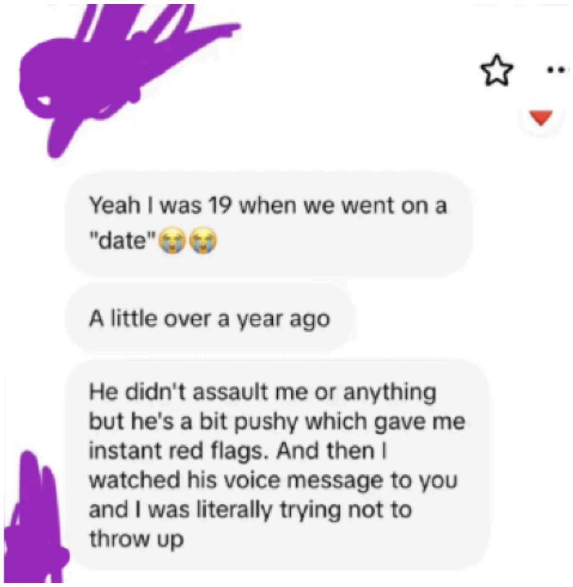
This section focuses on alleged real-life interactions and encounters involving ShooshiMooshi that have been described by individuals who claim to have met, spoken with, dated, or otherwise interacted with him outside of his public content. These accounts are included because they may provide additional context regarding patterns of behavior that cannot be observed through videos, streams, or social media posts alone.

The materials in this section consist of screenshots, statements, and firsthand accounts. Unless independently verified, these claims should be treated as allegations rather than established facts. The purpose of presenting this information is not to claim that every allegation is definitively true, but to document recurring reports and allow readers to evaluate the credibility, consistency, and significance of the accounts for themselves.

This focuses primarily on an incident between a 19 year old and 25 year old Shooshimooshi.



Yeah, he dmed me on TikTok and we happened to live close so I agreed to go on a date only for him to drive me straight to his apartment ._.



[redacted]

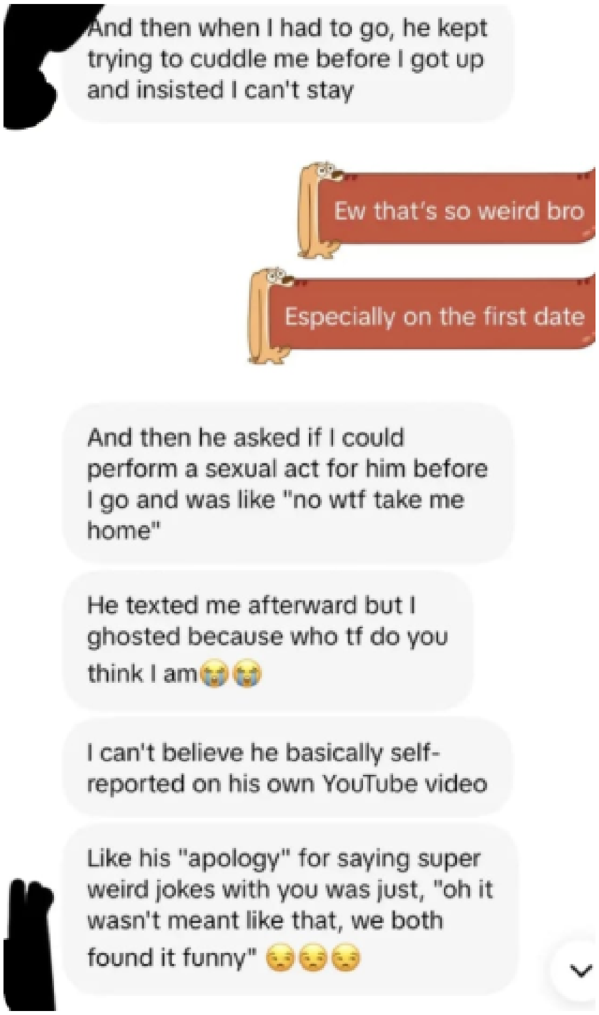
Yeah I was 19 when we went on a "date"😭😭

A little over a year ago

[redacted]

He didn't assault me or anything but he's a bit pushy which gave me instant red flags. And then I watched his voice message to you and I was literally trying not to throw up

See below, warning for slight nsfw mention



[redacted]

And then when I had to go, he kept trying to cuddle me before I got up and insisted I can't stay

Ew that's so weird bro

Especially on the first date

And then he asked if I could perform a sexual act for him before I go and was like "no wtf take me home"

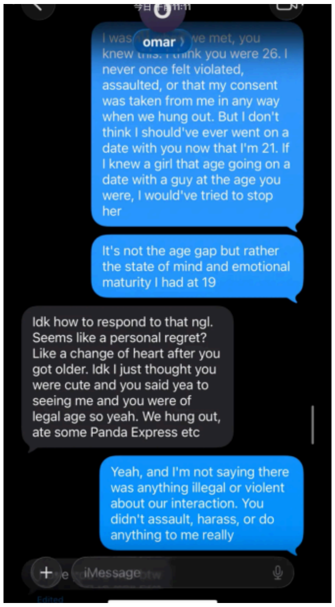
He texted me afterward but I ghosted because who tf do you think I am😭😭

I can't believe he basically self-reported on his own YouTube video

[redacted]

Like his "apology" for saying super weird jokes with you was just, "oh it wasn't meant like that, we both found it funny" 😒😒😒

After seeing the expose Shooshi made on japanichegirl, the 19 year old in these screenshots reached out to Shooshimooshi.



I was [illegible] we met, you knew [illegible] think you were 26. I never once felt violated, assaulted, or that my consent was taken from me in any way when we hung out. But I don't think I should've ever went on a date with you now that I'm 21. If I knew a girl that age going on a date with a guy at the age you were, I would've tried to stop her

It's not the age gap but rather the state of mind and emotional maturity I had at 19

Idk how to respond to that ngl. Seems like a personal regret? Like a change of heart after you got older. Idk I just thought you were cute and you said yea to seeing me and you were of legal age so yeah. We hung out, ate some Panda Express etc

Yeah, and I'm not saying there was anything illegal or violent about our interaction. You didn't assault, harass, or do anything to me really

The purpose of presenting this information is not to claim that every allegation is definitively true, but to document recurring reports and allow readers to evaluate the credibility, consistency, and significance of the accounts for themselves.

Below is a screenshot that is allegedly from Shooshi's ex mod. Here the mod claims that Shooshi dated a minor and was controlling her phone. Note that this was back in 2024. This proof was baseless so we didn't plan on using it. However…

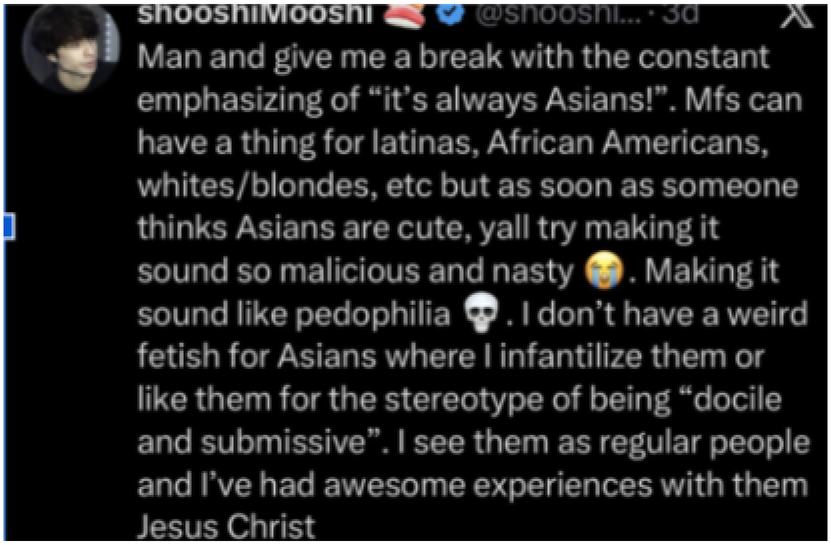
Asian fetish

Asian fetish

After people noticed that ShooshiMooshi would only hit up Asian girls, notably Japanese girls, he began getting confronted about it. In response to criticism, he posted this on twitter:



shooshiMooshi 🍣 ✔ @shooshi... · 3d

Man and give me a break with the constant emphasizing of "it's always Asians!". Mfs can have a thing for latinas, African Americans, whites/blondes, etc but as soon as someone thinks Asians are cute, yall try making it sound so malicious and nasty 😭. Making it sound like pedophilia 💀. I don't have a weird fetish for Asians where I infantilize them or like them for the stereotype of being "docile and submissive". I see them as regular people and I've had awesome experiences with them Jesus Christ

By his own admission, he repeatedly sought out Asian cosplay creators for romantic relationships, and many of the individuals he contacted appeared to be younger-looking women. This pattern raises questions about whether the attraction is directed toward individuals themselves or toward a specific racialized image associated with them.

It is also notable in fact, that no one who was criticizing him ever said he was liking Asians for being docile and submissive. He came up with that himself.

He has also at one point said he compares girls to "waifus," which are idealized female anime characters. While having a racial preference is not inherently fetishization, repeatedly pursuing women from a single demographic, particularly those who fit youthful anime-inspired aesthetics, can create the impression that they are being viewed through the lens of a fantasy or stereotype rather than as unique individuals.

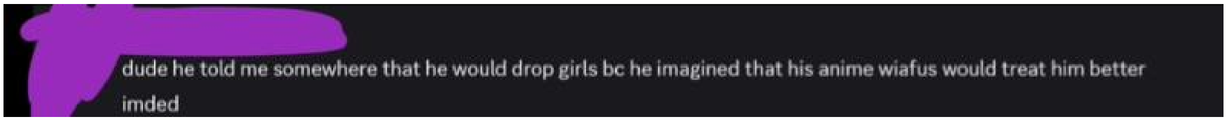
Honestly, it's not that I can't get a girl...it's that anime has fr given me unrealistic standards of my ideal type. Whenever I think I like a girl, I compare her to any waifu and am just like "nah I can do better".....I'm trash

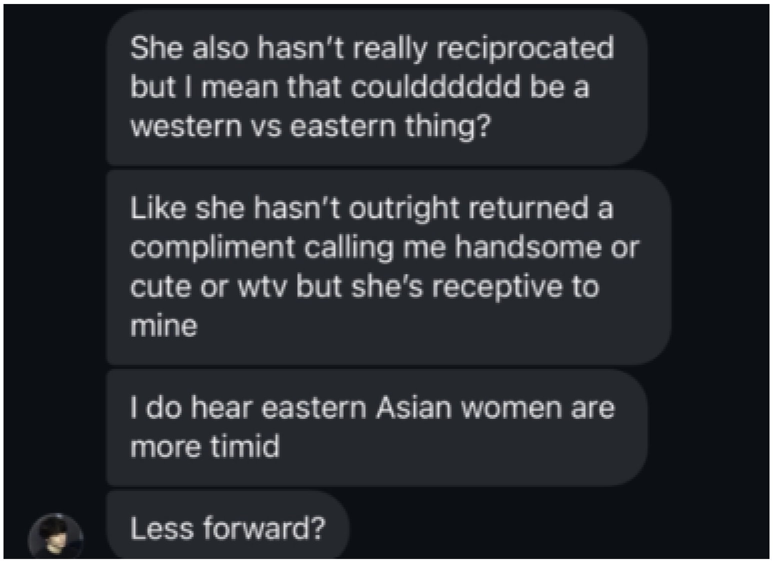
His ex confirms this fact:



[redacted]

dude he told me somewhere that he would drop girls bc he imagined that his anime wiafus would treat him better imded

Ironically, he also DM’ed this to someone:



She also hasn’t really reciprocated but I mean that couldddddd be a western vs eastern thing?

Like she hasn’t outright returned a compliment calling me handsome or cute or wtv but she’s receptive to mine

I do hear eastern Asian women are more timid

Less forward?

Instead of considering that a lack of reciprocated compliments might simply reflect this person's feelings, he immediately wonders whether it could be "a western vs eastern thing" and states that he has heard East Asian women are "more timid" and "less forward." This frames her behavior through generalized assumptions about East Asian women as a group rather than treating her as an individual.

Hes nasty asf he was in kpopfap which is a nsfw subreddit for kpop girls

And smth else with hentai and anime girls which isnt that bad itself but when u think abt how he only DMs Asian girls ...

yeah i threatened him with that, he terrified me like i just hear rustling outside of my window and i knew it was him 1:52 AM

I also broke up with him because he kept following OF girls on instagram and had so much hentai porn saved on his phone... like so much 1:53 AM

Like this dude blocked me so that his fans wouldn't find out he was dating a minor and then when i looked at his account on my alt he was busy following OF girls while i was blocked on my main 1:54 AM

dude ew yeah he was in some like hentai subreddits

Evan

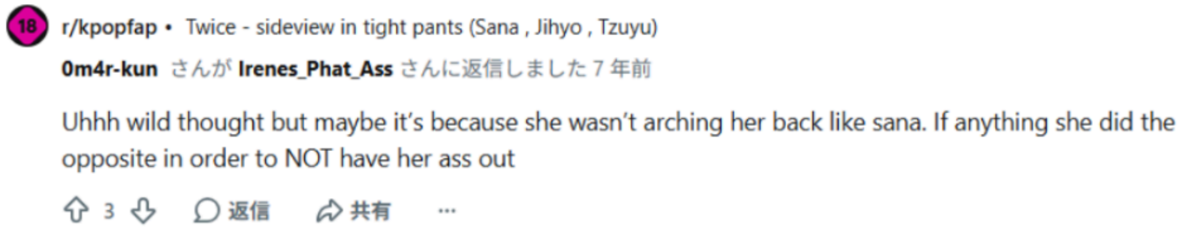
yeah i think i saw one.. all asian cosplayers too LMAOO 1:55 AM

Furthermore, on his personal subreddit (see Reddit for proof), he also made the comment shown below. on a post from r/kpopfap.



r/kpopfap • Twice - sideview in tight pants (Sana , Jihyo , Tzuyu)

Uhhh wild thought but maybe it's because she wasn't arching her back like sana. If anything she did the opposite in order to NOT have her ass out

R/kpopfap is a subreddit dedicated to adult-oriented and explicit discussions, pictures, and GIFs of Korean pop (K-pop) idols. Many fans find the objectification of real people—and occasionally minors—to be highly inappropriate. The subreddit also often consists of photos taken of idols without their consent.

Below, shows a censored NSFW post that Shooshimooshi commented on. This confirms he was in hentai subreddits like his ex said.

Here Shooshimooshi calls someone in a crime video he is covering a “dumb fuck” for getting tricked into believing a minor was an adult. However, this is ironic because Shooshi pursued a relationship with a 15 year old, under the guise that she was 19, for a few months.

Shooshi is also noted in multiple occasions to talk about Sykkuno and his wrongdoings, despite doing extremely similar things himself

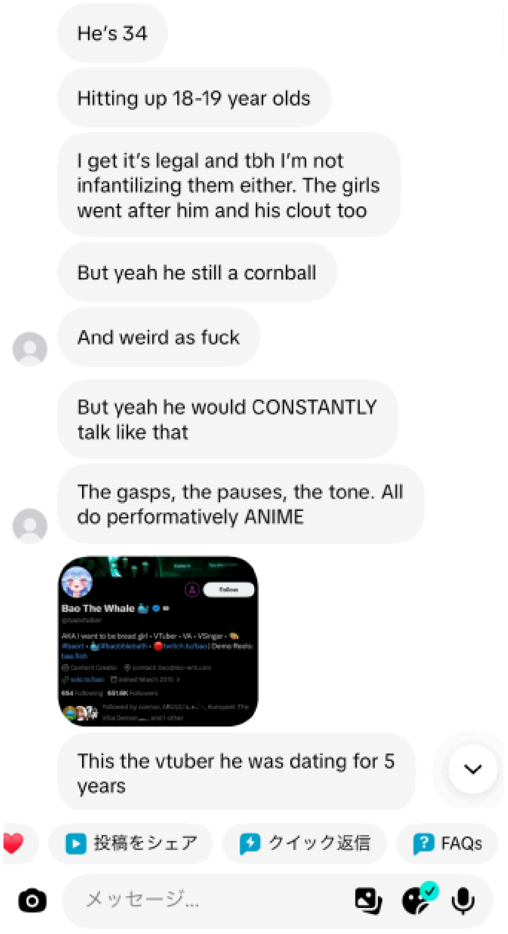
That’s crazy tho. Serial cheated on his gf for 5 years straight lmfao. Nonstop behaving like he was single the whole time

I think she found out at some point in the middle? She was crying or something in their living room, then Sukkuno went upstairs to talk to the girl he had met 2 weeks prior LMFAO to calm HER down

Hella crazy at 30

Those people can’t be real

I’d never do that you baby



He’s 34

Hitting up 18-19 year olds

I get it’s legal and tbh I’m not infantilizing them either. The girls went after him and his clout too

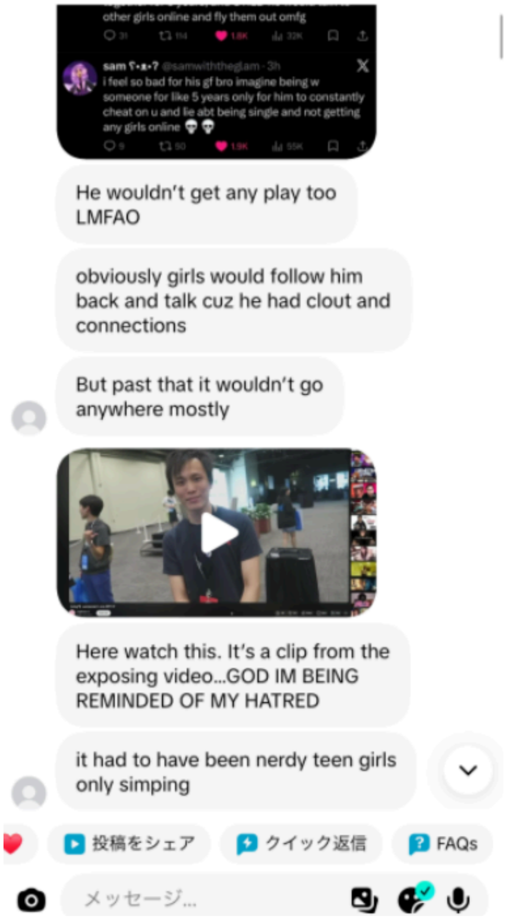
But yeah he still a cornball

And weird as fuck

But yeah he would CONSTANTLY talk like that

The gasps, the pauses, the tone. All do performatively ANIME

This the vtuber he was dating for 5 years



other girls online and fly them out omfg

i feel so bad for his gf bro imagine being w someone for like 5 years only for him to constantly cheat on u and lie abt being single and not getting any girls online 💀💀

9 50 1.9K 55K

He wouldn't get any play too LMFAO

obviously girls would follow him back and talk cuz he had clout and connections

But past that it wouldn't go anywhere mostly

Here watch this. It's a clip from the exposing video...GOD IM BEING REMINDED OF MY HATRED

it had to have been nerdy teen girls only simping

Wasn't he like 34 going after a 19 year old; I just found out about this part 🤢 If that's true then I think it's a deserved downfall

I was lied to about her age, I didn't use fame or money to coerce her into liking me like sykkuno did, and also I'm a whole 8 years younger than sykkuno lol

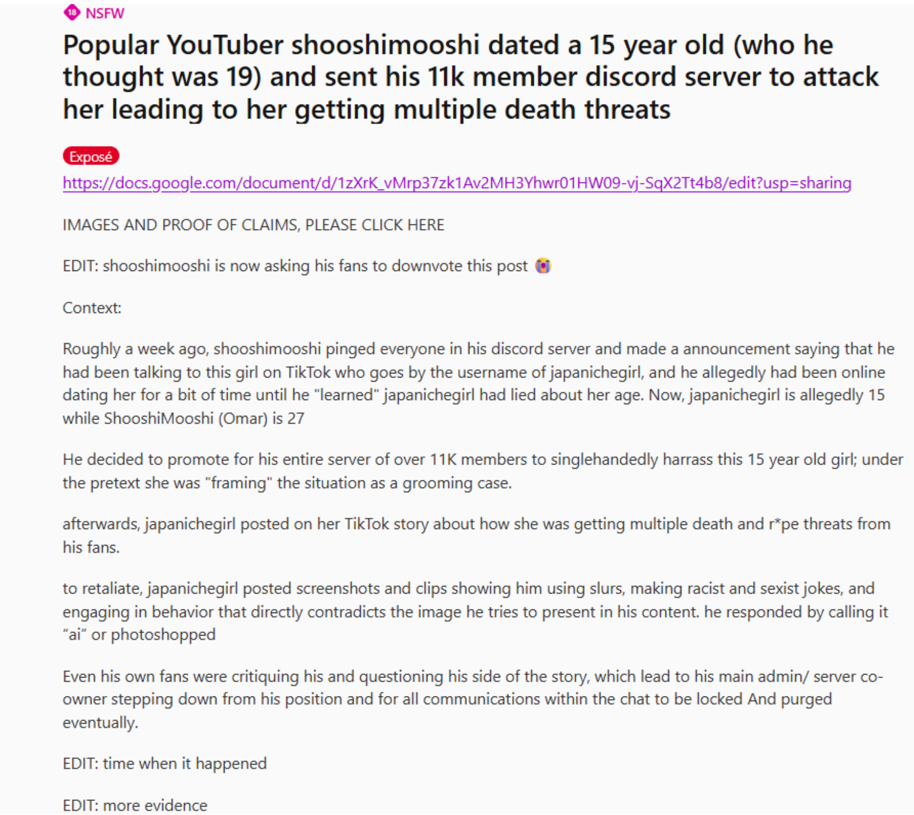
A week after Shooshimooshi had outed Japanichegirl to his discord, someone had posted this to r/youtube drama. The post has since been deleted, but it garnered around 230 upvotes beforehand.



Popular YouTuber shooshimooshi dated a 15 year old (who he thought was 19) and sent his 11k member discord server to attack her leading to her getting multiple death threats

EDIT: shooshimooshi is now asking his fans to downvote this post 😭

Context:

Roughly a week ago, shooshimooshi pinged everyone in his discord server and made a announcement saying that he had been talking to this girl on TikTok who goes by the username of japanichegirl, and he allegedly had been online dating her for a bit of time until he "learned" japanichegirl had lied about her age. Now, japanichegirl is allegedly 15 while ShooshiMooshi (Omar) is 27

He decided to promote for his entire server of over 11K members to singlehandedly harrass this 15 year old girl; under the pretext she was "framing" the situation as a grooming case.

afterwards, japanichegirl posted on her TikTok story about how she was getting multiple death and r*pe threats from his fans.

to retaliate, japanichegirl posted screenshots and clips showing him using slurs, making racist and sexist jokes, and engaging in behavior that directly contradicts the image he tries to present in his content. he responded by calling it “ai” or photoshopped

Even his own fans were critiquing his and questioning his side of the story, which lead to his main admin/ server co-owner stepping down from his position and for all communications within the chat to be locked And purged eventually.

EDIT: time when it happened

Shooshimooshi has also made an announcement on his discord server, with 11,000 members, asking his fans to report the post, and ignore anything it says. He claims that the post is “slanderous” despite it accurately detailing the situation.

@everyone ladies and gentlemen...we got em 💀💀💀. Fuck outta here with these fake ass slanderous ass stories. Thank you guys so much for everything ❤️. Her and I have taken accountability for what we got wrong. That’s a sign of growth. I’m proud of not only myself but of her. She’s still messed up imo for what she did LOL but it’s a step. I wish the best for her. Now let’s the MOVE THE FUCK ON 😭

Sorry, This post was deleted by the person who originally posted it.

Shooshimooshi discovered this post and began defending himself on an alt account. This was evident because the alt account had previous posts, which had many connections with Omar:

OP's post is very misleading. Shooshimooshi provided all proof on his discord and Instagram. The order of events was that they met online, she lied for 3 months about her age, eventually people reached out to shooshimooshi to give him proof, he didn't wanna believe it (understandably so because he grew to like her), he confronted her, then japaniche girl threatened shooshi with fake/doctored messages so that he would stop digging. Shooshi didn't know she was underage even until the end because she kept lying. Even provided fake ID. After shooshi terminated things with her, SHE proceeded to try and slander. Shooshi's posts came AFTER. Responding to her and to warn his fans of false screenshots and accusations. Shame on OP for getting this wrong. Seems they simply hate shooshi. Here's a screenshot of him literally saying not to bother her

Yup that's her

Yeah

Me

NOW. Here's why I'm making this public. No, not for yall to harass her. DO NOT DO THAT. But yes she's racist af. It's insane. And now that I dumped her, she's spreading lies about ME being racist/homophobic...ME THE GAY KING??? (Sorry)

It is also notable that he lies in this comment, saying that Japanichegirls posts came before Shooshi's discord announcement. They didn't.

There was a Discord announcement where he called someone "the goat" for sending her hate, then he edited announcements to change them to say not to harass her. Even if he said not to in the first place, sending her socials is extremely unnecessary

0m4r-kun • 2mo ago

The "hateful comment" in question was just a comment calling her out for lying about her age and trying to slander shooshi 😭. You are reaching so hard!!!

He also made an announcement on his discord server, asking people to report it / downvote it.

The post was taken down because his fans brigaded it, as shown here: https://www.reddit.com/r/internetdrama/comments/1ssyxn7/posts_ab_this_youtuber_shooshi_mooshi_and_his/

It is evident that this Alt account belongs to Shooshimooshi (despite him saying otherwise) because of this post on the account:

channel name is shooshiMooshi if you'd like to get a better idea. There ain't tooo many videos up so there shouldn't be too much scrolling haha

This is an old, now deleted comment from a few years ago. Here, he confirms his channel name despite his initial denial that the alt account did not belong to him.

The post below is also further evidence:

I. am. not. shooshi. Oh my god and you guys, including OP, are shifting focus away from the points brought against you...this shows a lot about you guys. You simply hate the YouTuber. Everything in this post is just wrong 😭.

These posts are ironic considering the fact he was adamant on saying it was not his account, with his fans agreeing with him.
